HONOR ROLL PUBLISHED

The honor students of the school those having the most honor points for each quarter have been passed by the faculty.

The points were considered for each student by taking the grade times the number of quarter hours. A "B" grade in a one hour class counted one honor point. No grade below "B" was considered. A grade of "A" was counted as one and one half times a "B" (thus a two hour class "A" grade scored three honor points). No student with less than twenty-two honor points is included in the official list which is made up of one graduate, five upper division and five lower division students. Honorable mention are those with a point or so less.

Hall Wins Annual Turkey-Day Run and Upsets Dope

Theron Hall upset the old dope-bucket and surprised the wise ones by handily trimming Wakefield in the annual four mile event. Of course the "I told you so" guys are in evidence as usual but the result is a little different than was generally expected. Wakefield was apparently overtrained and seemed slightly stale though he would have had to be in top condition to lead Hall.

The proverbial cross country storm was obligingly present as the smallest entry in the history of the Merrill cup lined up for the start.

The course was in a very slippery condition, especially the pavement which made the harriers stride with great care. The field while small was rather select and all ten men finished well.

Promptly at 12:15 Roberts gave them their directions and the signal which started the shivering athletes on their way. Wakefield immediately took the lead but was unable to keep it from the nimble Hall who set a fast pace and never faltered, the entire circuit. Hall crossed the tape 24 minutes, 51 3-4 seconds after the gun, finishing strong. Wakefield was close behind but his efforts to overhaul the winner were futile. This time is somewhat slower than that of last year and more than two minutes above the record set by Wayne Hales. By garnering a majority of the points the Frosh were able to spend the balance of the day carving turkey bones. The Juniors were second with the Sophs a close third.

Positions at the finish were as follows:

1. Hall Frosh
2. Wakefield Junior
3. Bentley "Ivy" Frosh
4. Romney Frosh
5. Corbett Frosh
6. Pryor Frosh
7. Val Bentley Soph
8. Christensen Frosh

Annual B. Y. U. Marathon Won By Homer Wakefield

(Special to The News.)
PROVO, Nov. 24.—The tenth annual Thanksgiving cross country race of the Brigham Young University held here at noon today was won by Homer Wakefield, a sophomore, who covered the four and one half miles in 24 minutes and seven seconds, nearly a half minute slower than the record made by Wayne Hales several years ago. Wakefield was closely followed by Theron Hall, a freshman who was the "dark horse" of the race, and threatened at times to overtake the winner. Hall sickened during the last 300 yards of the course permitting Wakefield to win by a margin of 50 yards.

William A. Jones, freshman, H. W. Bentley, sophomore, Harold Knudsen, sophomore, Nephi Christensen, freshman, Don Corbett, freshman, Earl Swenson, freshman, Parley Lundell, freshman and Ray Hawkins, freshman were the other prize winners, and finished in the order named after Wakefield and Hall. Thirty-five runners crossed the tape within the time limit of 30 minutes and most of these were pretty well together during the entire race. The freshmen class won the prize turkeys with a total of 291 points, the sophomores came next with 129 points while the fourth year high school class won third place with a total of 29 points. The freshmen assembled to celebrate their victory.

Hall Takes Oath; W. J. Johnson to Head Commission

Bonds of Road Supervisors Accepted; Petitions Received

Theron Hall, newly appointed county commissioner, was formally inducted in office Monday morning, the oath of office being taken before County Clerk C. A. Grant, after Mr. Hall's bond had been approved by District Judge Dallas H. Young and ordered recorded and filed.

Commissioners W. J. Johnson and Sylvan Clark were first to congratulate the new commissioner, after which the commission proceeded to organize permanently. Upon motion by Mr. Clark, seconded by Mr. Hall, Commissioner Johnson was named chairman of the commission. Bonds for four road supervisors, (Continued on Page 5)

Theron Hall Named To Commission As Robertson Resigns

Springville Civic Figure Will Complete Unexpired Term; Has Assumed Duties

Following the reading of a written resignation from Utah County Commissioner Hilton A. Robertson, County Commissioners William J. Johnson and Sylvan Clark unanimously agreed to the appointment of Theron Hall of Springville to succeed Mr. Robertson Monday at the regular session of the commission.

Mr. Hall is well and favorably known throughout Utah county, stated Clarence Grant, county clerk, due to his having been deputy county assessor for four years, and through numerous other activities. He was a member of the city council of Springville for two years, 1927 and 1928. He was also watermaster during 1926, 27 and again in 1932. He has served several terms on the water board. He also served on the wheat allotment commission when the government wheat program was in operation.

At the present time he is precinct chairman of the democratic committee of Springville, and is also serving on the board of Springville public library. He is also an active church worker, and is a member of the Kolob stake genealogical committee.

Few men are better acquainted with the new county commissioner than Arnold Meacham, manager of the Provo Abstract company. Mr. Meacham, upon being informed of the new appointment, was enthusiastic for Mr. Hall.

"He has served his community for many years in many different ways, and he has always proved an honest and capable official, and a most careful thinker. He is a likeable man, too, one of whom everyone speaks well, and yet who is certainly not a yes-man. I have seen him stand out against all odds if he was right, and when he does so, he has always won out.

"Mr. Hall is a man who has ideas. I have known him for many years, and have had public and private dealings with him, and he is a straight-shooter and a real fellow," declared Mr. Meacham.

The letter of resignation from Mr. Robertson was dated Feb. 15 and read: "Due to my appointment as president of the Japanese mission of the L.D.S. church it becomes necessary for me to leave for my future field of labor on February 17. My resignation should therefore be effective March 1."

Mr. Hall, while his official duties will not commence until one week from date of appointment, was present at the commission meeting Monday and attended to the numerous matters under consideration during the day, including road work presented by 25 or more road supervisors and machinery operators who met with the county commissioners, outlining the needs of the county in road work for the coming year. He will fill the unexpired term of Mr. Robertson, which has two years yet to run.

Theron S. Hall Appointed on County Board

Springville Man Named to Robertson's Place; Ends Party Dispute

Special to The Tribune

PROVO—Theron S. Hall of Springville was appointed a member of the Utah county commission to succeed Hilton A. Robertson, also of Springville, at a meeting Monday morning of the other two commissioners, William F. Johnson of Spanish Fork and Sylvan W. Clark of Lehi.

To give Mr. Hall time to file his bond, the appointment will not become effective until March 8, when he will take the oath of office.

Held Offices

Mr. Hall began his public life 10 years ago as watermaster for Springville, serving during 1926 and 1927, and again in 1932. He was a member of the Springville city council in 1928 and 1929. In 1933 he was appointed Springville field deputy in the county assessor's office, a post which he has held since. He is also a member of the present Springville library board.

Mr. Robertson resigned as county commissioner February 15 and left two days later for Japan, where he will become president of the Japanese L. D. S. mission. The resignation was not to become effective until March 1, enabling the commission time to consider applicants for the post.

Mr. Robertson, elected in the fall of 1932, took office January 2, 1933, and was made chairman of the board, a post he held for two years. He again became chairman of the board at the beginning of this year.

Settles Row

Appointment for Mr. Hall settles a controversy originating in December in regard to naming Mr. Robertson's successor on information that he would resign.

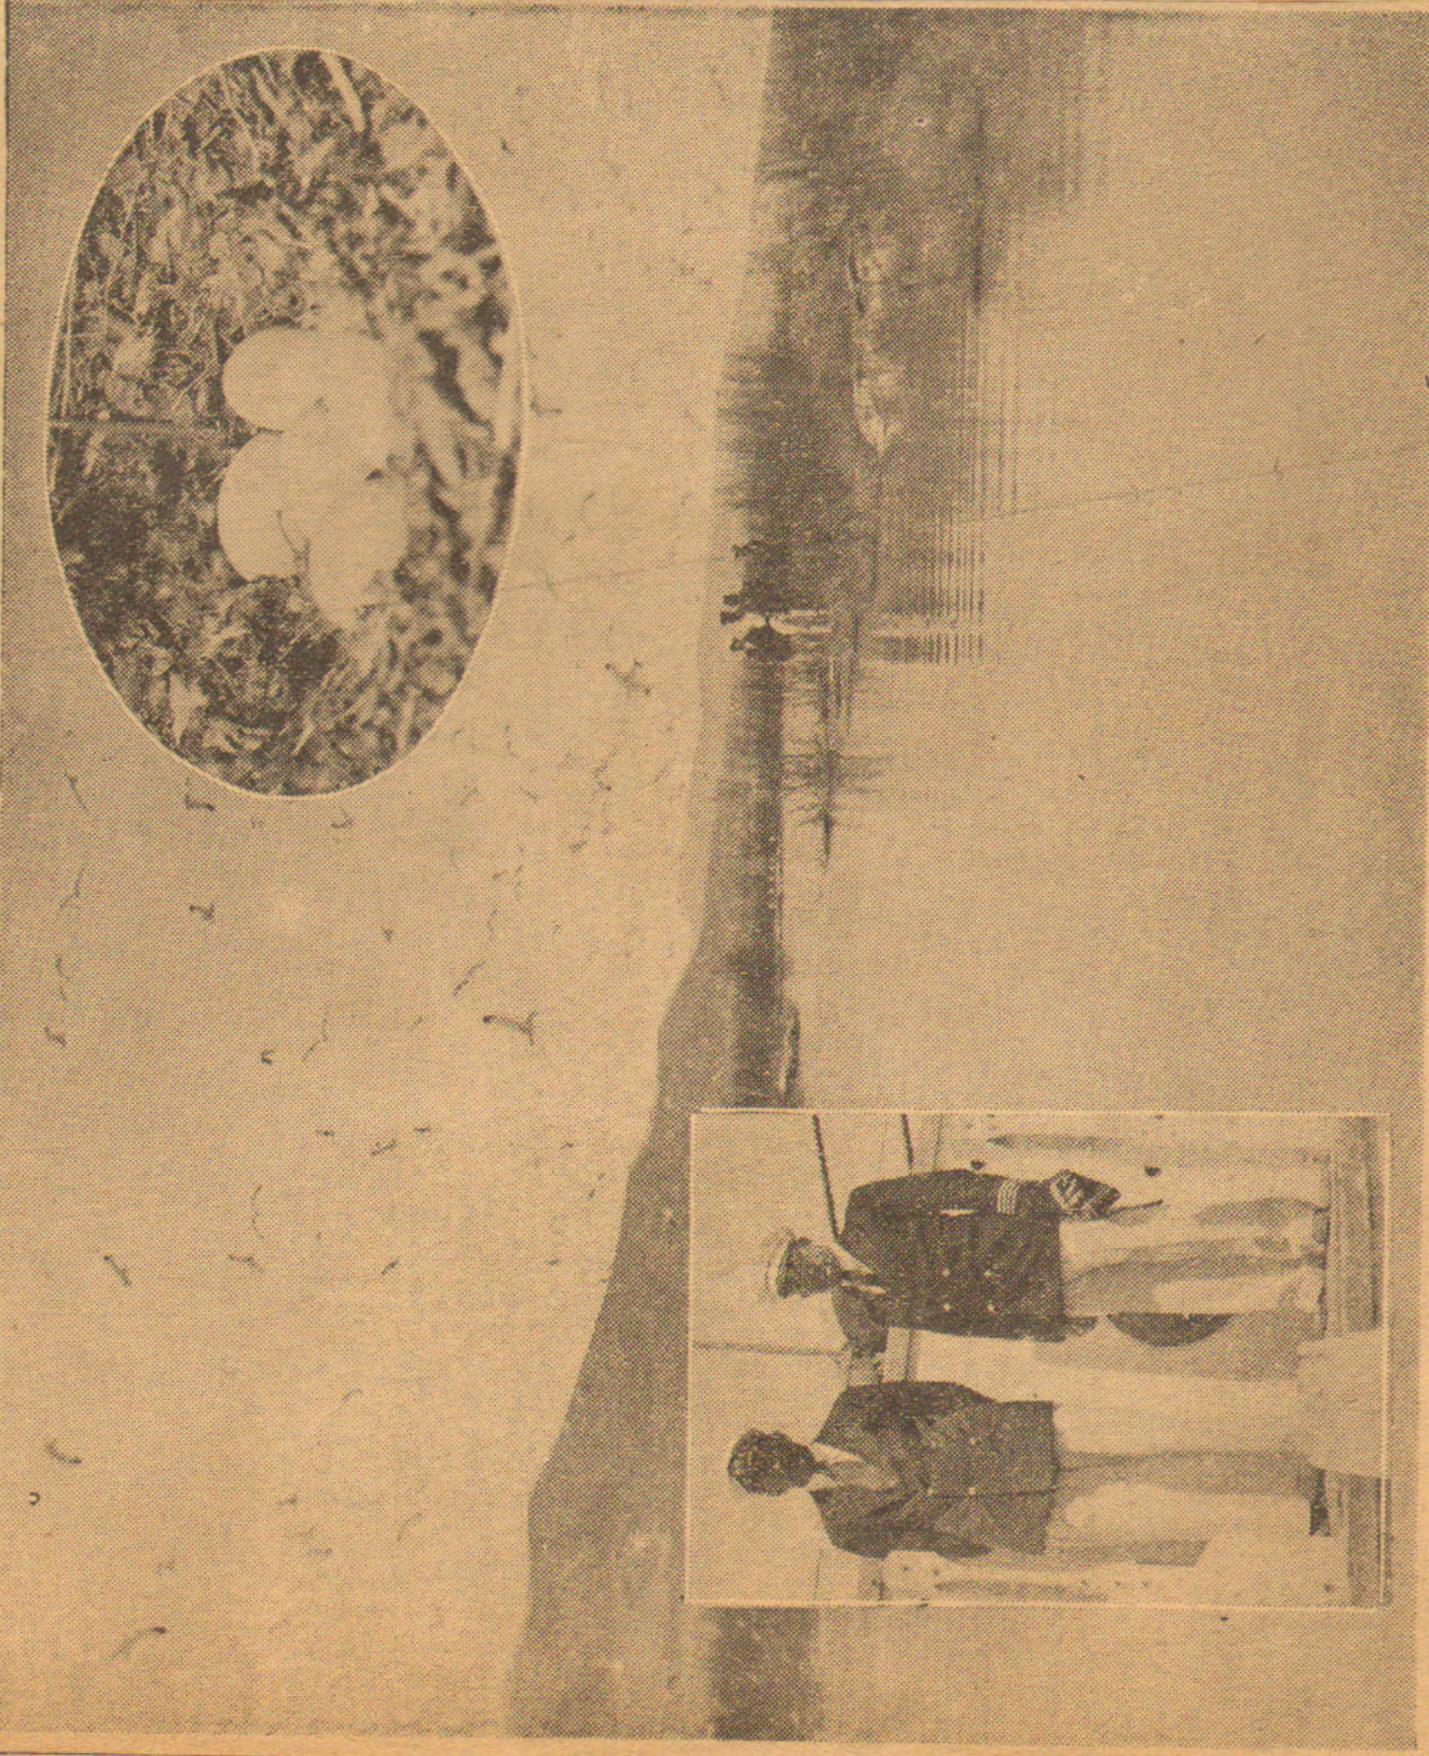

At a meeting December 14 of the Utah county Democratic central committee, Mr. Hall was endorsed by a majority of the committee. However, the Provo delegation refused to vote on the matter, stating they did not know that indorsement of a candidate for the post was to come up at the meeting and, therefore, they had not entered a candidate.

At another meeting of the central committee on December 24, Mr. Hall was reindorsed by a vote of 27 to 9. He won out over R. J. Myrdock, who was presented by the Provo delegation.

He also had the indorsement of the Springville city precinct committee, of which he is chairman.

Mariners Find Utah Lake Wild-Life Paradise

Gulls rose in swarms recently when a party of Utah mariners visited Rock Island in Utah Lake during a cruise to show the feasibility of yachting there. Geese and many other forms of wild-life were found thriving on the island. Upper insert, note the eggs of geese that are nesting now. Lower insert, left, Elmer Smith, right, Hewitt Strong, owners of the yacht on which the trip was made. Note how the air swarms with the noted birds that saved the Mormon pioneers from the crickets.

PROVO, Utah, May 1.—Wild geese are nesting on Rock Island in Utah Lake again, according to mariners who crossed the waters between the mainland and the island on board the Smith-Strong boat this week. Many nests of geese and hundreds of nests of gulls and other water birds were found on the island.

The party went to the island as guests of Hewitt Strong and Elmer Smith, owners of the floating dancing pavilion and schooner which has been beached for two years because of the lack of water in the lake and a suitable landing place.

Among those who made the trip were Mayor Mark Anderson and Commissioner John McGuire, Theron Hall, a member of the Utah County Commission, Fred Newell, commander of the American Legion, Provo Post No. 13, and a number of other guests.

Start Difficult

The party embarked on the banks of Provo River and after much difficulty on account of shallow water, got out into the lake where the going was fine. The big boat anchored off the shore of Rock Island after a trip of almost exactly one hour from the river. The party went ashore to inspect the island and the birds.

The geese nests were of unusual interest since the island has been pretty much deserted by them for several years. Nearly all of the nests located contained five big, white eggs. One nest was cunningly concealed and the eggs hidden under a layer of feathers. Members of the party were careful not to disturb the eggs or to harm the birds.

Thousands of sea gulls stood about the island, seemingly much interested in the invaders of their retreat. One of the party suggested that they were like the Indians who viewed for the first time Columbus's landing party. As the men went forward, the gulls rose in swarms to make the air a swirling, living, noisy, animated place.

Headed by Commodore W. W. "Billy" Wilson, the group visited Rock Island Bay, a lovely little inlet on the north side of the island. This little port is large enough to accommodate several boats.

Choice for Boating

The island is rapidly becoming forested with tamarac and even larger trees. Elmer Smith has planted several poplars on the island. These are growing splendidly, and if nothing interferes with them, will soon offer shade and refuge for the thousands of birds which visit the island.

On the way back to port, lunch was served. Choice cold meats and cheese, bread, potato chips, pickles, and crackers were laid out for the guests, who were invited to help themselves.

The chief purpose of the trip, according to Messrs. Smith and Strong, was to demonstrate the fact that Utah Lake is a lovely place, rimmed round with its mountains of pearl, and that it is a choice place for boating if a harbor could be made which would enable boats to land their parties without hazard or delay. Support is being sought for a project which would provide such a harbor a short distance south of the mouth of Provo River.

MRS. MANILA BROWN Telegram Correspondent

SPRINGVILLE—What might seem a tiresome and monotonous job to some has proved an interesting and educational pastime for Theron S. Hall of this city, who for 19 years has kept an accurate record of the moisture resulting from storms in this vicinity.

According to his experiment, 6.17 inches of moisture fell here from October 1, 1938, to March 1 of this year, compared to 6.15 inches of moisture during the same period last year and 6.91 inches for the same period in 1928-29.

Mr. Hall began his experiments in 1920, with a hand-made device. In 1924, when the Utah State Agriculture college extension division began a project to measure moisture in various parts of the state, he volunteered to do the work here and procured from the extension division an approved measuring device. After two years, the project was discontinued, yet Mr. Hall continued his recordings until now he can quite accurately predict weather conditions at least so far as moisture is concerned.

Resigning his position as Utah county commissioner some time ago, Mr. Hall is now a maintenance foreman on the state road commis-

Besides keeping his moisture records, he finds time to follow other interesting hobbies—that of landscaping his yard, which is one of the most attractive in this vicinity, and of collecting rare volumes of reference books on agriculture and stock raising.

Hall Resigns To Take State Road Job In Provo Canyon

Appointment of a successor to County Commissioner Theron S. Hall to finish out his term until January, will not be made immediately, Board Chairman William J. Johnson indicated today.

Mr. Hall resigned late yesterday afternoon. He will take over his new duties as state road commission district foreman in Provo canyon area beginning Monday.

By law, county commissioners have 30 days to appoint Hall's successor following acceptance of his resignation. If Hall's resignation is not accepted until August 15, the commissioners' decision would come after the primary election, when the people's preference of those running for the post would be expressed.

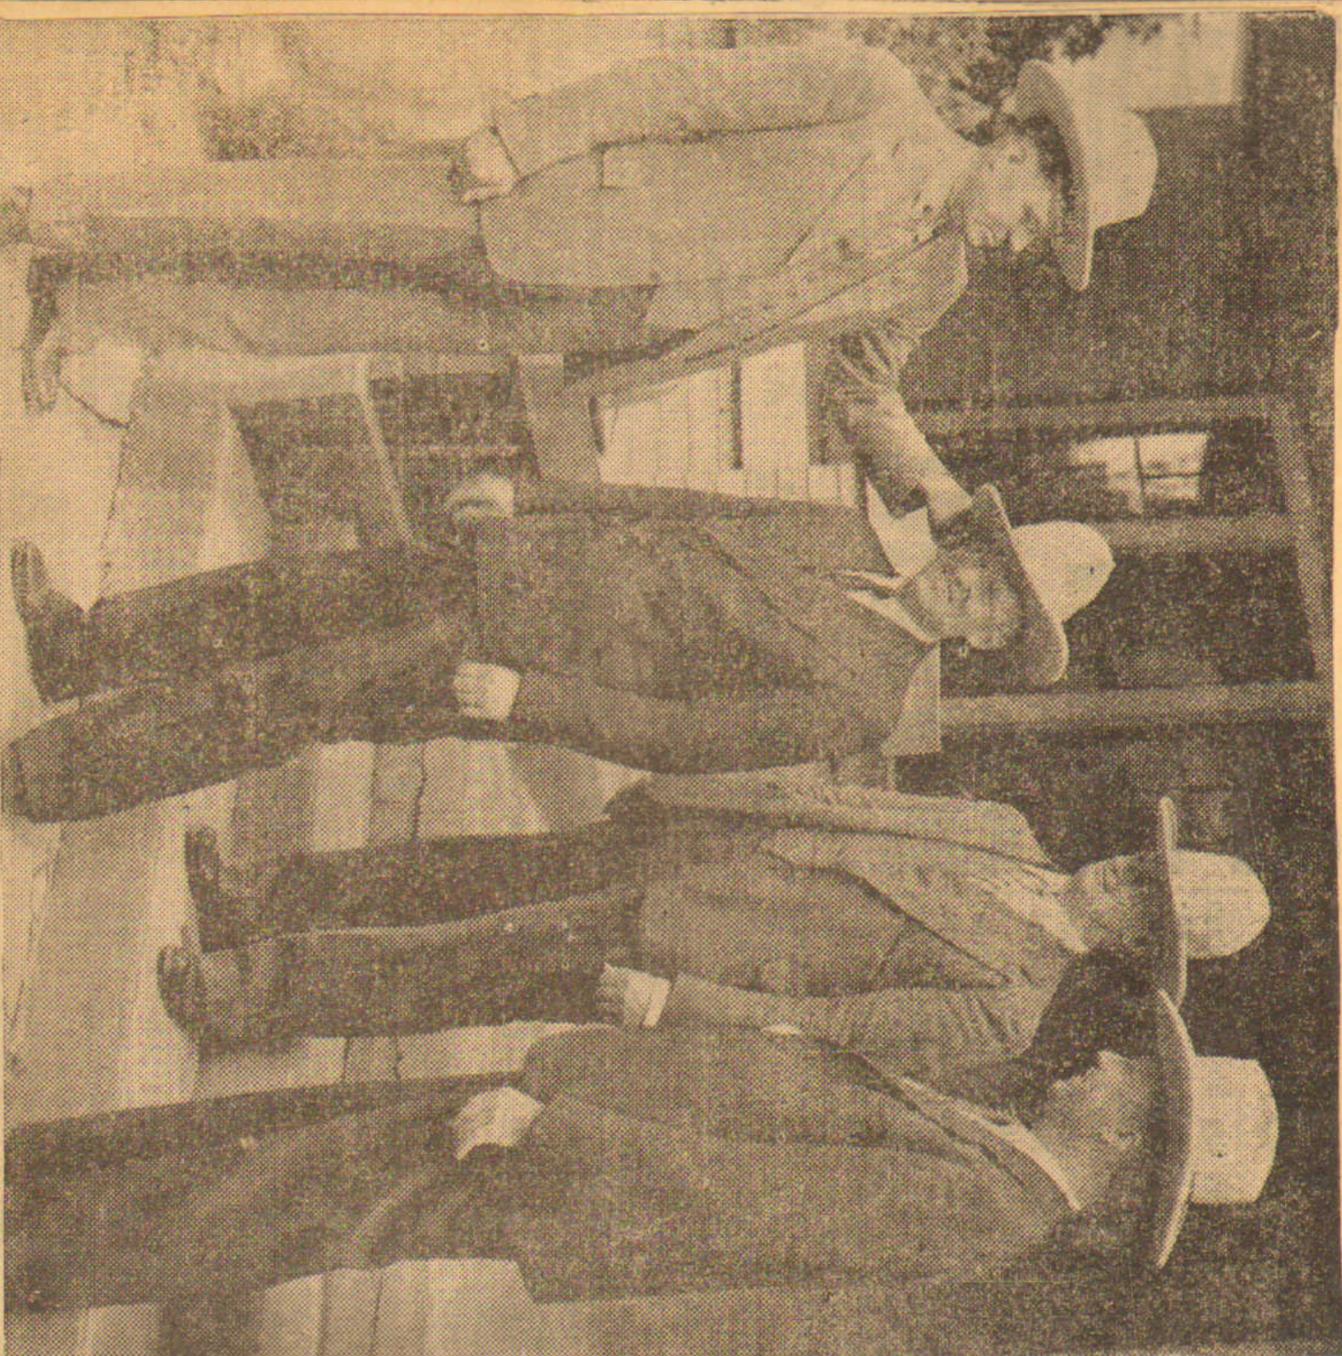

Two Provoans, John H. Manson and Bishop R. J. Murdock, are candidates for the two-year post which Hall leaves.

If appointment of the successor is not made in the 30-day period, Governor Henry H. Blood has authority to name a successor, County Attorney Arnold C. Roy-lance reports.

Commissioners Johnson and Sylvan W. Clark were agreed this afternoon that the successor to Hall would be a Provo man. However, they noted that Hall's resignation does not become effective until August 15, and that they would not make their appointment immediately.

"Mr. Hall has not had a vacation, and we feel is as much entitled to one as the other commissioners," Mr. Johnson said. He and Commissioner Clark noted that Mr. Hall's services will be required in winding up county affairs during the next few weeks in which he is involved, and that Mr. Hall will be available to help in this work.

IS APPOINTED
DIST. ASSESSOR

Theron S. Hall has been appointed field assessor for the Springville district. He began his work here January 2.

The various units of government are under tremendous burdens carrying relief work in addition to regular operative expenses and as a result some units raised their levies in 1934, Mr. Hall states. The assessor does not set the tax rates and cannot exempt anyone from assessment. The county commissioners only are authorized to make tax revisions or exemptions, it is stated.

Personal property tax is due when assessed unless there is real estate to which it can be attached. The government has first lien, Mr. Hall states, and no one is allowed to move personal property until taxes are paid.

Every home will be visited in time so that everyone may get their car licenses. All are urged to have their owner's certificate at hand because it is impossible to get a tax release without it, Mr. Hall points out. The minimum assessment on cars is $30.

The Springville City levy is 46.50 mills; Nebo school district, 28.20 mills; state bounty on sheep and goats, 5.0 mills; rangehorses and cattle, 2.0 mills; state territorial tax, domestic cattle, 3.0 mills.

Livestock values are as follows: range cattle, calves weaners, $5; cows $9; yearlings $8; two-year-olds, $12; dairy cows, $18; bulls, feeders and blooded cattle in proportion to value; stock sheep, $2.50 feeder sheep and blooded sheep in proportion to their value; swine $2.50; farm horses, $25; turkey $1; poultry $.20; bees $2; fores,

Theron S. Hall
Gets Appointment
As New Sheriff

Theron S. Hall of Springville, former Utah county commissioner, Saturday was appointed by the county commission as sheriff to complete the unexpired term of John S. Evans, who resigned to accept a position on the state engineering commission.

Following the appointment which is effective July 1, Mr. Hall and the county commissioners elevated George W. Loveless of Orem, veteran deputy sheriff, to the rank of chief deputy.

Mr. Loveless and family will live at the apartment at the Utah county jail where the sheriff has lived in the past, with Mrs. Loveless as matron at the jail. Mr. Hall will live at his home in Springville.

Prominent Here—
Mr. Hall, the new sheriff, has been prominent in various capacities in Utah county for many years. He was named a courcommissioner March 1, 1937, to fill the unexpired term of Hilton A. Robertson, who resigned to receive an appointment as president of the Japanese mission. Mr. Hall resigned August 1, 1938, to accept a post as maintenance foreman in Provo canyon for the state road commission. He has been employed by the road commission since.

Prior to the time he was named a county commissioner he served as a special county assessor, and prior to that time followed the occupation of farming.

He served a term on the Springville city council, 1928-29, and was watermaster three years in Springville. He was Democratic precinct chairman in Springville several years, and at present is on the county executive committee. He formerly served two years on the state Democratic committee.

A member of the L. D. S. church, Mr. Hall is a Sunday school teacher, and formerly was on the stake genealogical board.

Utah County's imposing Courthouse in the center of the thriving metropolis of Provo, where the famous Brigham Young University yearly attracts hundreds of students from far states and far countries.

Utah County is the state's second most populous county, and it offers more attractions to the homeowner than any other spot in the Inter-Mountain West. Its beauty and grandeur offer immeasurable outlets for lovers of the outdoors and nature. With its climate, canyons, mountains, streams, lakes, industries, schools, churches, thriving communities and varied products, it is one of the charming places of the earth, and its inhabitants are contented and prosperous.

Our first view of Utah County, as we enter it from the north, is that of Utah Lake, which covers 94,000 acres. Out of the lake winds the Jordan River, continuing north until it reaches the Great Salt Lake.

Lehi, the community we enter first, is noted as the home of the pioneer sugar beet industry of the West. Here the first sugar factory in the state was built.

American Fork is the next town, and here the poultry business of the state is centered. Many carloads of eggs, dressed poultry and turkeys leave this up-to-date city each year.

Pleasant Grove is known throughout the West for its excellent strawberries, and yearly the city celebrates in honor of its important fruit industry. Lindon and Orem on the Provo Bench are the fruit centers of the county.

Provo, the county seat, is the fastest growing city in the state. With its many industries, business interests, educational facilities, augmented by the coming construction of Deer Creek Dam, it promises to become the trade center of Central and Southern Utah.

Springville has the distinction of being the art center of the state. The new art gallery, completed this year, houses many valuable paintings. Each year in April a world-famed National Exhibit of artists' work is held.

Spanish Fork is the home of the State Junior Livestock Show, annually being host to the livestock raisers of the state.

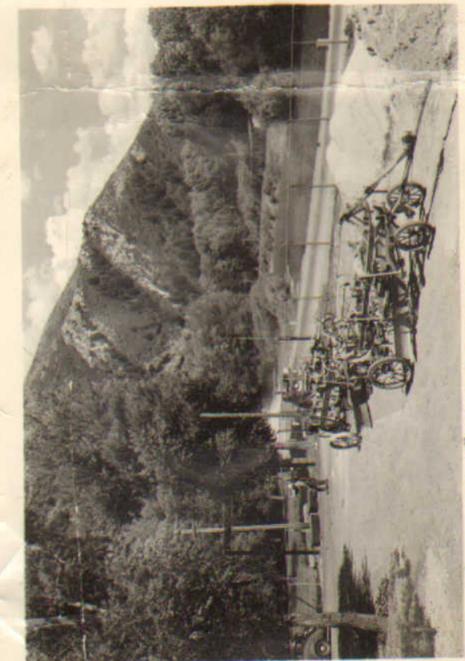

Payson is proud of the onion, which is its chief agricultural product.

Santaquin, Goshen, Mapleton, Elberta, Alpine, Genola, Benjamin, Lake Shore, Palmyra, Vineyard, Lake View, Pleasant View, Cedar Fort, Fairfield, Spring Lake, Thistle, Colton and many other settlements in the county are justly proud of their splendid civic buildings, roads, churches and schools, as well as the quality of their livestock and agricultural products.

The scenic drives in the county are many and varied. The loop road around back of Timpanogos, up the American Fork Canyon and down the Provo, is one of the most delightful in the West. The road passes Timpanogos Cave National Monument.

Utah County's industries are many and varied. Besides the great iron and steel plants, there are several canning factories, flour mills, lime kilns, brick kilns, power houses, poultry and egg plants, sugar factories, newspaper plants, mining mills, candy factories, railroad shops, gas companies, mattress factories, cold storage houses and mines.

Utah County has an assessed valuation of $43,000,000. The county affairs at the present time are under the management of William J. Johnson of Spanish Fork, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and Commissioners Sylvan Clark of Lehi and Theron Hall of Springville.

Authority Given For Destruction Of Slot Machines

Sheriff Theron S. Hall of Utah county today received court authority to destroy some 20 slot machines and parts of old liquor stills accumulated by the sheriff's office over the past few years.

The court order was granted by District Judge Dallas H. Young upon petition of the sheriff through District Attorney W. Stanley Dunford.

Sheriff Hall said he planned to smash the slot machines and other "illegal" equipment with a hammer this afternoon, then sell them to a junk dealer to assist in the scrap metal salvage.

Utah County Voters Reject Senator Lundell

Chief Justice Moffat Given Big Majority In Run-Off Primary

PROVO, Oct. 7.—Utah County's Democratic run-off primary election produced several close election battles and one upset, in the defeat of State Senator Francis S. Lundell of Benjamin for renomination.

Chief Justice David W. Moffat was given a big majority over Clarence Baker in the county. Nearly complete results give Moffat, 2,661, Baker 1,780.

Emil K. Nielsen, Provo school principal, and Elisha Warner, Payson newspaper publisher and a member of last year's legislative sessions, lower house, apparently won the two state senatorial nominations, defeating State Senator Lundell and Burton H. Adams, Pleasant Grove, a veteran legislator of the last two sessions. The count—Nielsen, 2,343; Warner, 2,179; Lundell, 2,031; Adams, 1,915.

Sheriff Theron S. Hall of Springville, who was appointed to his present position a year ago, won the nomination over his chief deputy, George W. Loveless of Orem. Springville and Mapleton voters gave Hall an overwhelming vote, with a total of 2,613. Loveless polled 2,234.

The vote for sheriff drew a higher number of votes than any other on the ballot.

In the closest contest of the run-off primary, Douglas Phillips of Provo, apparently defeated Charles W. Mitchell of Provo. Phillips polled 2,302 and Mitchell, 2,245, with only five small districts left to hear from.

Lavern D. Green of Provo became the party nominee for county surveyor, polling 2,341 votes, with 2,164 for Robert L. Wilson of Payson, incumbent by appointment.

Although the voting was not heavy, the contests were all confined to Democratic candidates, and few if any Republican voters participated.

Tribune Intermountain Wire

PROVO—Appointment of Theron S. Hall of Springville as Utah county sheriff, to become effective on July 1, was announced Saturday by R. J. Murdock of Provo, chairman of the county commission.

Mr. Hall was named to fill the unexpired term of Sheriff John S. Evans, recently named by Governor Herbert B. Maw as a member of the state engineering commission.

Mr. Hall is a former member of the county commission and has been prominent in the democratic party of the county. At present he has charge of state roads in Provo canyon.

With his appointment Mr. Hall announced there would be no changes in the sheriff's force except the elevation of George Loveless, a candidate for the sheriff's post, to the position of chief deputy. Mr. Hall said he would continue to live in Springville, with Mr. Loveless to occupy the sheriff's quarters at the county jail and act as jail supervisor as well as in charge of civil work. Mrs. Loveless will be named as matron at the jail to succeed Mrs. Evans.

Other members of the force are to remain the same, with Claude Carter as jailer, Charles Smith as night jailer and Charles Mitchell as civil clerk. Other deputies are J. J. Mercer of American Fork, Arthur Winters of Pleasant Grove, Leroy Johnson of Provo, J. Ed Clark of Spanish Fork and Lloyd Powell of Payson.

COUNTY OFFICERS MEET WITH LOCAL COMMITTEES

Utah County Clerk Clarence Grant and Utah County Sheriff Theron S. Hall met with chairmen of the various committees on civilian defense here Friday evening and outlined the duties of each in case of an emergency.

Short talks were also given during the evening by a number of the chairmen who reported that work had begun in their various departments.

The five major divisions include: planning, protection, necessities, communication, and public utilities, and each of these are subdivided into five or more departments with committee chairmen and their assistants.

The county officials explained that work in all divisions must go forward and everyone should be prepared to perform their particular task as part of the defense program.

"Wild West" Minded Britisher Wants to See Gun Slingers

The truth might hurt, but just the same Sheriff Theron S. Hall of Utah county must tell a "wild west" minded Englishman that the gun totin' days have long-since passed, at least in this sector of the western frontier.

Sheriff Halladay was groping for a diplomatic way of breaking the sad news to T. N. Hague of Rotherham, Yorkshire, England, who sent him the following letter:

"Dear Sheriff:

Are there any gun-slingers in the west still? Please write me and tell me. I read a lot of Western books. I'm coming out there to stay some day. Please write."

The letter was addressed: "To the Sheriff, Springville, Utah, Western U. S. A." The sheriff's office conjectured that Hague may have addressed the letter to Springville after reading a western novel written by Frank C. Robertson, Springville author whose books are widely circulated in England. Mr. Robertson issued a hearty laugh when told of the letter this morning by Sheriff Hall.

Hall Files for Nomination As County Sheriff

Theron S. Hall of Springville, Utah county sheriff, will be a candidate to retain his post at the coming election, he announced today. He will run on the Democratic ticket.

While Mr. Hall has served 17 months as a Utah county commissioner and since July 1, 1941, as sheriff, he has never run for a county office before. He was appointed commissioner to succeed Hilton A. Robertson when the latter left to be president of the Japanese mission, and was named sheriff to fill the unexpired term of John S. Evans, who was appointed to the state engineering commission.

Mr. Hall is well known throughout the county. He has been extremely active in the county civilian defense council, being commander of the protection division of civilian defense. He is also county fire warden.

Sheriff Hall for many years has been active in Democratic circles. At present he is Springville precinct Democratic chairman, a member of the county executive committee, and a member of the state central committee.

He served on the Springville city council in 1928-29.

Close, interesting contests and one major upset marked Utah county's run-off primary election which Tuesday completed Democratic party nominations for the general election November 3. The Republican nomination slate was completed at the first primary in September.

Incumbent Defeated—

Most startling upset was the defeat of Francis S. Lundell of Benjamin, incumbent state senator, who was beaten by both Emil K. Nielsen, Provo school principal, and Elisha Warner, Payson newspaper publisher, who walked off with the two Democratic nominations for the senate.

Theron S. Hall of Springville, Douglas Phillips of Provo, and Lavern D. Green of Provo won nominations for sheriff, auditor, and surveyor, respectively, in heated contests. Green's nomination assures his election, as there is no Republican party candidate for the surveyor's post. In the fifth contest on the ballot, Utah county voters gave the incumbent, David W. Moffat, a 2706 to 1821 lead over Clarence E. Baker in the race for the state supreme court nomination.

Voting Extremely Light—

While the voting was light—the lightest, in fact, since the direct primary was adopted by Utah—all of the contests were close and some of them weren't decided until returns from the last straggling districts were in.

Voting was heaviest for sheriff, 4955 ballots being cast. This was actually heavier than the 4700 votes cast for sheriff at the September primary, although lighter than the total vote of 5200, cast at the first primary for some offices having a contest on both the Democratic and Republican tickets.

Closest battle of all was for county auditor, with Phillips edging Charles W. Mitchell by a scant 62 votes. Mitchell, as the votes came in from the various voting districts, led most of the way, but Phillips forged ahead when the returns from his former home town, Lehi, poured in.

Mitchell, by the way, won 51 of the 90 districts to 37 for Phillips, but the latter rung up bigger majorities in the districts he carried. The rivals tied in two of the districts.

Green Defeats Wilson—

The next closest race was for surveyor, with Green rolling up only 154 more votes than Robert L. Wilson of Payson, the incumbent surveyor by appointment. The districts in Payson voted all-out for Wilson, but Green polled consistent majorities in more of the other precincts than did Wilson. Hall's majority of 389 votes over George W. Loveless of Provo, his deputy, in the sheriff's race, was rolled up in his home town, Springville. Hall polled an amazing total of 843 of the 885 votes in the eight districts of the Springville precinct.

Loveless, like Mitchell, carried the more districts, but couldn't match the landslide of votes Hall received from his home supporters. Forty-six districts were carried by Loveless, 41 by Hall, and three were even.

Nielsen Surprises—

Nielsen's feat in leading the race for the state senate nomination was expected by many, though he placed fourth in the first primary. He received 2391 votes, while Warner came through with 2236 to grab off the other nomination from Lundell, who had led all candidates in the first primary. The defeat of Burton H. Adams, who was fourth with 1946 to Lundell's 2093, left the north end of the county without a nominee for the senate.

Moffat was given a big lead by Utah county voters over Baker, polling 2706 ballots, or more than garnered by any other candidate in the election, to 1821 for Baker.

Observers speculated that votes by Republican friends played an important part in deciding some of the very close contests for the Demo nominations.

WISE or OTHERWISE

Teacher in Sunday School—

"Why did the Latter-day Saints permit the mobs to drive them from Illinois into Missouri, then from there, across the plains?"

Johnnie—

"Well, it says in the Articles of Faith, We believe in being chaste, and I guess that is why they let them chase them."

PROVO, UTAH COUNTY, UTAH, MONDAY, JANUARY 4, 1943

OFFICERS OF UTAH COUNTY INSTALLED

Murdock Re-elected 'As Chairman Of County Commissioners

R. J. Murdock of Provo, today was re-elected chairman of the Utah county commission for the ensuing two years.

His reappointment broke a precedent of several years' standing, the chairmanship having been shifted from one commissioner to another after each election in the past.

The motion for Mr. Murdock's reappointment as chairman was made by Commissioner Sylvan W. Clark of Lehi, and seconded by Commissioner William J. Johnson of Spanish Fork.

There will be no shift in department responsibilities.

Four newly-elected county officers and six others reelected in November were sworn in at ceremonies in the county commission rooms today.

The four new officers are Lavern D. Green, surveyor; Douglas Phillips, auditor; Theron S. Hall, sheriff; and Frank T. Bennett, treasurer. Hall and Bennett have just completed terms by appointment, but were elected for the first time in November.

Reelected officers sworn in were Commissioners Johnson and Clark, Clerk C. A. Grant, Recorder Eloise P. Fillmore Tipton, Assessor Lawrence M. Atwood and Attorney Arnold C. Roylance.

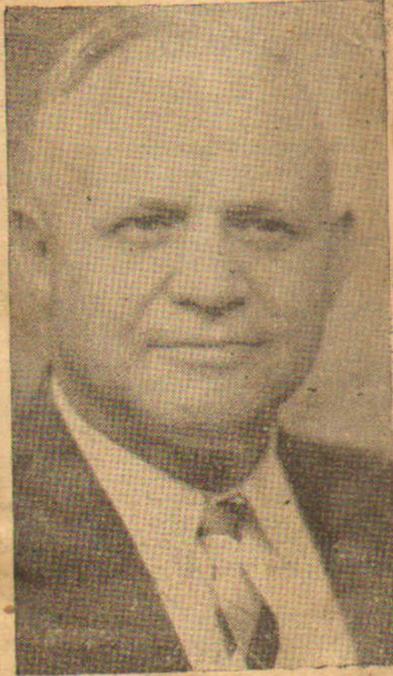

Commissioner Murdock, the only county holdover officer, presided and Abe W. Turner, Fourth district judge, was swearing-in officer.

Several citizens attended the ceremonies.

Mr. Murdock, Judge Turner, LeRoy Johnson, county Democratic chairman, and each of the officers sworn in made brief speeches.

All of the deputy sheriffs were (Continued on Page Eight) also sworn in. Deputies in other departments were to be sworn in later in the day.

Following the ceremonies, the county commission granted a request by Surveyor Green for a temporary leave of absence.

Green, who has been employed as an engineer by the George A. Fuller Construction company at Geneva Works, will receive no pay from the county during the period except for one day a month when he will report for surveyor's duty to qualify him for his office.

During the leave, which will be for at least three months, Robert Wilson of Payson, who has served as surveyor by appointment the past several months, will continue in the office.

A letter to the commission from J. Judge, chief engineer of the Fuller company, explained that losing Mr. Green with vital construction at the plant at its peak would work a severe hardship on the company.

Reorganization of the Utah county sheriff's department was virtually completed today, with Sheriff Theron S. Hall reappointing five of the 10 deputies who have served in the past and employing three new ones, all with past experience. The force will be completed with the appointment of two deputies to serve as jailers at the county jail.

New deputies appointed are Walter Durrant of American Fork and Reuben L. Christianson of Spanish Fork, who formerly served as deputies under Sheriff E. G. Durnell, and Merrill Smith, of Payson, who has been serving as Payson city night marshal.

Reappointed were George W. Loveless of Orem, jail supervisor and criminal deputy; Charles W. Mitchell of Provo, clerk and civil deputy; Morris Anderson of Lehi, criminal deputy; Arthur Winters of Pleasant Grove, chief jailer and fingerprint man; and Evelyn Kirk of Goshen, criminal deputy. Mrs. Loveless was reappointed matron at the jail.

The two appointments of deputies to serve as jailers are expected to be settled immediately, Sheriff Hall said. The present jailers are Leo Spencer and Charles Smith, both of Provo.

Deputies Durrant, Christianson, and Smith replace J. J. Mercer of American Fork, J. Edward Clark of Spanish Fork and Lloyd Powell of Payson, respectively, all of whom have taken other jobs.

The new deputies as well as those reappointed were sworn in at ceremonies in the city and county building today.

Sheriff Hall expressed himself as being well pleased with his new staff. "Every man on the force is experienced in law enforcement work," he pointed out.

As during the past several months, no deputy will be assigned exclusively to civil work, the sheriff said. As a step to cut down travel, the criminal deputies will serve civil papers as they go about their regular work.

Sheriff Hall is now taking steps to modernize the department by installation of a new and complete record-keeping system.

Sheriff Spends Hectic Week Leading Search Into Hills For Lost Hunters

PROVO — "This is the most hectic week I have ever seen, and I will be glad when Oct. 30 is over," declared Sheriff Theron S. Hall, Springville, as he waited further information from his deputies before sending out additional help for the posses searching for lost hunters in Utah County.

"It began last Sunday with the loss of Truman B. Pratt, duck hunter from Salt Lake, for whom searchers are still looking, and it reached a critical stage over the week end," he continued. "I have been in office for four and one-half years now and I have never seen anything like it," he explained. "Saturday a 72-year-old man was lost in the hills west of Lehi, a man had his horse shot out from under him in the east hills, and now I have every available man out looking for an experienced hunter lost in the Diamond Fork area. On top of that, a Provo man was lost in the hills and two duck hunters spent the night on Bird Island while their families and friends, as well as county officers, went nearly frantic."

According to the story told by Art Winters, Pleasant Grove, one of the investigating deputies, W. D. Harmer, 72, American Fork, insisted on accompanying a hunting group into West canyon, some 15 miles west of Lehi. Members of the group were not too enthusiastic, but they finally gave in and he went with them. Shortly after noon Saturday they returned to camp and found him missing. They searched for him for more than two hours before calling the sheriff's office and deputies went to assist in the search. They met him about dusk returning to camp with another hunting party who had picked him up on the other side of the ridge.

A. L. Lee, Spanish Fork, was the man who had a horse shot from under him while he was deer hunting in the hills east of Spanish Fork. According to a report reaching the sheriff's office this morning, officers are investigating.

Lloyd D. Singleton, an employe of the Provo city street department, became separated from his companion, Harold Dalton, also a city streets department worker, while hunting deer in the Payson canyon area, and spent the night around a fire which he had built to keep warm. The two men were caught in a snowstorm while returning to their camp and Dalton thought that Singleton was right behind him. When he failed to show up he looked for him and then notified the officers. A posse was organized, but they found him as he was returning down the canyon with another hunting party.

F. Laverne Shurtliff, secretary of the Provo Foundry and Machine Co., and Paul Brickey, also of Provo, spent Saturday night on Bird Island, in the middle of Utah lake, when their motor went dead on them and they were unable to return home, because of the high waves on the lake. A searching party was organized, but it met the two men coming home early Sunday morning.

LOCAL COUNTY OFFICER FILES FOR RE-ELECTION

Sheriff Theron S. Hall announces he will be a candidate for re-election in the coming Democratic primaries.

Sheriff Hall was first appointed to the post in July, 1941, to fill out the term of John S. Evans who resigned to accept the position of chairman of the state road commission. He won the 1942 elections for the office and is completing his first elected term.

Sheriff Hall lists several improvements and expansions to his department since he took office, including the installation of a modern two-way police radio system in connection with the state highway patrol, giving the office radio coverage over the entire state. Five cars of the department are now equipped with two-way radio, and deputies travel in constant contact with the central office and through it, with other law agencies in the state. A radio-equipped prowl car now patrols the county constantly during night hours, another step instituted by Sheriff Hall.

A complete photographic department was recently installed and a deputy specially trained in the work, enabling the office to keep a full record of accidents and other necessary pictorial data. Also during the present administration, the practice of photographing felons taken into custody was initiated, in addition to regular finger-printing.

Sheriff Hall's public service includes a year and a half as Utah county commissioner, from March of 1937 to July of 1938. He was appointed to the post to fill the vacancy created when Hilton A. Robertson left to become L. D. S. missionary president to Japan. Sheriff Hall resigned the commission post to accept a position with the state road department.

A lifetime resident of Springville, he has served on the Springville city council and has been an active L. D. S. worker, being at present a member of the Kolob stake high council.

PAINTING OFFERED AS PRIZE FOR CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Hall Offer Bessie Gourley Painting To Ward Winner

To stimulate interest of citizens throughout Springville in beautifying their homes and lots during the next few months to make ready for the 1947 centennial in Utah, Theron S. Hall and his wife of this city are offering a personal gift of a beautiful painting by Bessie E. Gourley of Provo, to the ward which as a whole does the most improvement.

The improvement campaign is under direction of the Relief Society organizations and the painting will be given to the Relief Society of the winning ward to be hung in the Relief Society room.

The painting, of an appropriate size for any room, is of hollyhocks in gorgeous shades of rose with green foliage and has an attractive frame. The picture is hanging on the east wall of the Herald office and townspeople are invited to view it at any time.

Mr. Hall in his position as sheriff of Utah county and also as an active church worker, has been in various parts of the city and has noted the many homes and lots which could be improved with a few hours' or days' work, which would not only increase the value of the property but would add to the attractiveness of the city as a whole. It is with a hope that everyone will enter in the improvement program and beautify their property for the centennial that Mr. and Mrs. Hall are giving the fine prize.

As the program develops, details in regard to judging, as well as special mention to those who are improving their property, will be published in the Herald.

Springville Seeks To Spark Beautification

SPRINGVILLE — In an effort to stimulate the interest of the citizens of Springville in improving their homes and surroundings in preparation for the state-wide Centennial celebration next year, Sheriff and Mrs. Theron S. Hall, Springville, are offering a beautiful painting to the Springville L. D. S. Ward which makes the greatest improvement in its area.

According to Sheriff Hall, the painting will be one of the prize pieces of art from the works of Bessie Gourley, Provo, and will be awarded to the Relief Society of the ward in which the greatest amount of improvement is shown in the cleanup campaign. The painting is of an appropriate size for any room

The sheriff said the award offered in the hope that increased interest will be shown in the cleanup program for Springville. He said that plans are completed as to the details in regard to judging of homes and yards, further information will be given to the people of Springville.

SPRINGVILLE — Presentation of a water color painting by Bessie E. Gourley, Provo, to the Springville Sixth ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints this week climaxed a paint-up, clean-up campaign conducted in Springville and Mapleton since early last spring.

The picture was contributed by Theron S. Hall, Springville, Utah county sheriff, and Mrs. Hall, in an effort to stimulate interest among citizens in beautifying their homes and yards during the Centennial year.

Judging was on points allowed for tearing down or painting barns, planting lawns and flowers, painting fences, remodeling homes and various other types of improvement.

The winning ward garnered a total of 10,528 points, compared to 1750 for the First LDS ward.

Ward Relief society teachers made a house to house canvass throughout the two cities to check on improvements. The beautification contest was reported one of the most successful conducted here.

Sheriff Hall Easily Defeats John Evans For Democratic Nomination; Chatfield Eliminated from State Senatorial Run-Off

Democratic incumbents scored heavily throughout Utah county Tuesday — all but County Commissioner William J. Johnson, who squeezed through by the skin of his political teeth to win the nomination with only a 10 vote margin over Elisha Warner out of a total of 5,020 ballots cast.

The foregoing count on the Johnson-Warner battle, one of closest election contests ever held in Utah county, is the Herald unofficial total.

The official count will not be known until the Utah county commission canvasses the ballot, which they are expected to do early next week. The canvass will be closely watched, because any clerical error of any magnitude could easily change the results in this particular instance.

Interest was considerably lower on the Republican side of the ballot, with only two county offices at stake and a much lower vote total cast. The GOP ballots totaled only about 25 percent of the total cast by both parties.

While the Johnson - Warner race was notable in following an expected trend so closely, the Democratic sheriff's battle attracted almost as much attention by upsetting all predictions and turning into a landslide, 3,651 to 1,598 for incumbent Sheriff Theron S. Hall. Opposed by John S. Evans, former sheriff, one-time chairman of the state road commission and county political stalwart, Sheriff Hall expected a tough contest to win the nomination. Instead, he gained the largest Democratic majority of any except County Assessor L. M. Atwood. The sheriff race attracted the greatest total number of votes in the primary, 5,249.

The only community of any size which Evans carried by a substantial majority was his home town of Lehi. Here he ran up a five to one advantage, but in his neighboring towns of American Fork and Pleasant Grove, Sheriff Hall scored a substantial majority. Provo also went substantially for Hall, and in south Utah county his victory became a landslide at many points. Expected to score heavily in his home town of Springville, Hall swept the eight districts with nearly a nine to one advantage. His own district, number five he carried 102 to six, and in number seven nearly blanked his opponent, 75 votes to a single ballot for Evans.

Next in interest in the county contest was perhaps the race for Democratic state senator, where A. Kelsey Chatfield of Lehi polled a low total of 1,383 votes to be eliminated in the primary, leaving four other candidates for the August 20 runoff. Della L. Loveridge of Provo stood highest in the Democratic state senatorial race with 2,384 votes. Next was Francis S. Lundell of Benjamin, who polled 2,231, followed by J. W. Thornton of Provo with 1,908. Incumbent Emil K. Nielsen, Provo, trailed in fourth place with 1,575. This is the only Democratic contest which was carried over for a runoff election.

County Assessor Lawrence M. Atwood, Pleasant Grove, piled up the greatest majority of any candidate in either party, defeating William G. Kocherhans, Orem, 3,985 to 948, for the Democratic nomination.

County Surveyor Lavern D.

Green defeated his Democratic opponent, Carr F. Greer, by the substantial margin of 3,139 to 1,745.

Maurice Anderson, Springville, Democrat, became one of the first persons to be elected to the house of representatives in the state, when he automatically won the post by defeating William Grotegut, also of Springville, for the nomination, 793 to 600. The office, representing legislative district four, will be uncontested by the Republicans in the November election.

Utah county's Martin M. Larson, incumbent supreme court justice and former Fourth District judge, received heavy county support to poll 3,112 votes against Albert H. Ellett, Salt Lake City, for the Democratic supreme court nomination. Ellett received 1,878 Utah county votes.

In the only justice of the peace race of the county at issue in the primary, incumbent Wayne Johnson defeated George G. Wilson, 413 to 234, for the Democratic nomination in the Springville precinct.

On the Republican side of the ballot, the United States senator race with two of the three candidates from Utah county, attracted the greatest local GOP vote, a total of 1,809 ballots. A. V. Watkins, Orem, although closely pressed throughout the state by William L. Baker, Provo, won a substantial margin over Mr. Baker in the county, 1,276 to 443. George H. Crow of Salt Lake City, third GOP senatorial candidate, polled only 90 votes in the county.

Next in GOP interest was the race for sheriff, with Henry S. Chipman, American Fork, defeating Ernest Jensen, Provo, 1,067 to 717. Jensen held about even and had a one vote lead at the close of returns from 34 districts, including many from Provo. From that point on, however, the issue was never in doubt for Chipman.

George A. Cheever, Payson, easily outdistanced Neil Dahle, Spanish Fork, 1,254 to 489, for the GOP nomination for two-year county commissioner. This is one tabulation which definitely will be altered by the official canvass, because returns from one Springville district were not available in the unofficial count. It cannot, however, alter the final result.

The remaining two contests on the GOP ballot were not local affairs and attracted the lightest GOP voting in the primary.

Three Springville Men Win Places In Local Primary Election

July 11 - 1946

Theron S. Hall, Maurice Anderson And Wayne Johnson Win Over Opponents In Tabulations Of Springville Districts

Springville supported home town candidates in the Primary election Tuesday, according to a tabulation of returns from the eight districts. Voting in each district was light.

Maurice Anderson, running against Wm. Grotegut of Spanish Fork for state representative, received 550 votes against his opponent's 83.

Theron S. Hall, incumbent Utah county sheriff, will run again on the Democratic ticket so far as Springville is concerned and he is also reported to be running high throughout the county. He received 595 votes in his home town, compared to 67 for John S. Evans.

Wayne Johnson, incumbent precinct justice, won over George Wilson running for the same position, with a total of 349 to 288 for Mr. Wilson.

There were no Springville citizens running for office on the Republican party and very few votes were cast for any single name.

A complete total for the various candidates is as follows:

Republicans Win All But Two Utah County Offices

Democrats Salvage The Sheriff, County Attorney And State Representative, 4th Legislative District Out Of Landslide

The Republican party was back in the saddle in Utah county today, after 14 lean years.

Following the trend of the state and the nation, they held their greatest local victory since 1926 after Tuesday's election gave them a clean sweep of everything but the offices of sheriff, county attorney and state legislative district Four. The latter office was defaulted by Republicans when they failed to name an opponent.

The county went definitely Republican in its national and state races. Arthur V. Watkins polled 11,510 votes for U. S. senator to put him well ahead of Senator Abe Murdock, who garnered 9937 in the county. William A. Dawson defeated Congressman J. Will Robinson, 10,978 to 10,539 for second district congressman, and State Supreme Court Justice Martin M. Larson lost to George W. Latimer by less than 400 votes, 10,795 to 10,405, for a place on the state's highest bench.

All of the eight constitutional amendments carried in the county, with three and four, concerning state school funds, rolling up landslide proportions which almost amounted to a shutout in their favor.

On the first Monday in January, 1947, the following will take the oath of office for Utah county: Four-year commissioner, Reed J. Knudsen, Provo, Republican; two-year commissioner, George A. Cheever, Payson, Republican; clerk, Verl G. Dixon, Provo, Republican; auditor, Karl H. Bennett, American Fork, Republican; treasurer, Maurice Bird, Springville, Republican; sheriff, Theron S. Hall, Springville, Democrat, reelected; attorney, Arnold C. Roylance, Springville, Democrat, reelected; recorder, Mildred Evans Ream, Spanish Fork, Republican; assessor, J. Austin Cope Jr., Spanish Fork, Republican, and surveyor, Hugo Price, Provo, Republican.

When the next session of the state legislature convenes, Utah county will be represented by two new Republican senators, B. Manning Jolley, Orem, and David Jones, Spanish Fork, and four new Republican representatives: Val E. Johnson, Lehi, district one; Mrs. Ethel Pyne, Orem, district two; Mrs. A. Sherman Christenson, Provo, district three, and E. J. Erekson, Payson, district five. Maurice Anderson, Springville, Democrat, will represent district four. He was without any Republican opposition.

On the basis of vote for United States senator, Utah county went Republican 11,510 to 9937, a majority of 1573. Several of the Democratic candidates for county offices, however, made better races than Senator Murdock, cutting down the lead of their GOP opponents several hundred votes under the margin by which Mr. Watkins took the county.

Stalwarts of the Democratic party, considered before the election even by many Republicans as the local favorites, were swept out of office. R. J. Murdock, chairman of the Utah county commission and considered one of the strongest men in his party, went down before Reed J. Knudsen, prominent Republican, by a count of 10,811 to 10,423. He made the closest fight of any losing candidate, and the issue was in doubt until well over half the districts were in. Other Democratic stalwarts went down before Republican opponents who were relative political newcomers, but who waged effective, aggressive campaigns and took leads that were never threatened after about the first 50 districts were tabulated.

Verl G. Dixon, young returning Provo veteran, capitalized on an immense Provo popularity plus an effective returned veterans campaign, to achieve a landslide victory for the office of county clerk over Clarence A. (Continued on Page Two)

GOP Candidates Win All But Two Contests In Utah County

Grant, long a Democratic wheel-horse. Dixon, who jumped into the lead almost from the first district to be tabulated, defeated Grant 11,983 to 9320, the largest majority of any Republican on the Utah county ballot.

The strongest Democratic figure in the county today appeared to be Sheriff Theron S. Hall, who led by nearly 500 votes over Henry S. Chipman. Some tabulations, however had a smaller margin for Hall, and exact figures awaited final recheck.

County Attorney Arnold Roylance, the only other Democrat to retain a contested office, did so by a margin of only 245 votes, defeating Mitchel M. Carter, who started out as an unknown to wage a campaign that brought him just short of victory.

The issue was still in doubt in the Utah county race last night for many candidates after better than half the districts were in. Near the halfway mark, Murdock and Knudsen were within 25 votes of each other in the four-year commissioner race. Others were not very far apart, although the general trend was beginning to make itself felt. At 70 districts, all winners had pulled into leads of at least 300 or 400 for even the closest, with the balance in command of reasonably safe margins. Roylance at one time held a greater lead than his finishing total, losing as the final districts came in.

A survey of Utah county's political history over the last 20 years reveals that the Republicans have not achieved a victory comparable to their current one since 1926 in Utah county. In that year, an off-year election, the Republicans carried all but the two county commissioner jobs and the county recorder post. In 1928, a presidential year, the GOP retained only the offices of two-year commissioner, district attorney and Provo city judge, even though the nation went Republican. The following election, the off-year vote of 1930, saw political power about evenly divided in the county, with the Democrats getting one commissionership, sheriff, recorder and assessor, and the Republicans victorious for one commissioner, surveyor, clerk, auditor, treasurer and attorney. The presidential year of 1932 saw the Democrats swept into power along with the rest of the nation, where they remained until yesterday.

On the basis of the vote for United States senator, every principal Utah county municipality went Republican by a decided margin except Payson, where, from unofficial returns, Murdock carried the town by three votes. This total could, and probably will be changed slightly by the official canvass, however, and it may go either way.

The senatorial vote in the other principal cities of the county, on the basis of unofficial returns, follows; Provo, Watkins, 4002, and Murdock, 3565; Pleasant Grove, Watkins, 550, and Murdock, 488; Lehi, Watkins, 696, and Murdock, 529; American Fork, Watkins, 1040, and Murdock, 713; Springville, Watkins, 988, and Murdock 861; Spanish Fork, Watkins, 1005, and Murdock, 936; Orem, Watkins, 875, and Murdock 699.

GOP Conducts Utah County Inaugural Rite

Tribune Leased Wire

PROVO—Utah county Republicans came back into power Monday, following inauguration ceremonies held at noon in the county commission chambers.

Jos. ph. E. Nelson, Spanish Fork, Fourth district court judge and a Republican, administered the oath to five of the new Republican officers including Verl G. Dixon, Provo, clerk; J. Austin Cope Jr., Spanish Fork, assessor; Karl H. Bennett, American Fork, auditor; Mildred Evans Ream, Spanish Fork, recorder; Maurice Bird, Springville, treasurer, and George A. Cheever, Payson, and Reed J. Knudsen, Provo, commissioners.

District Judge William Stanley Dunford, Provo, a Democrat, then administered the oath of office to Sheriff Theron S. Hall, Springville, and County Atty. Arnold Roylance, also of Springville, re-elected Democrats, as well as Hugo Price, surveyor, a Republican.

A brief speech of appreciation on behalf of the retiring officers was made by R. J. Murdock, retiring county commission chairman, while George E. Collard, county Republican chairman, responded and said he felt the November Utah county campaign was conducted on a high plane.

Following the inauguration ceremonies, Mr. Cheever unanimously was named chairman of the new county commission at the first official meeting of the body. Sylvan W. Clark, Lehi, Democratic holdover and third member of the commission, made the motion to name Mr. Cheever chairman. The motion was seconded by Mr. Knudsen and carried unanimously.

Deputy sheriffs sworn in Monday by the county clerk included W. B. Davis, George Loveless, Roscoe Kay and J. L. Barnhart, all of Provo; Walter Durrant, American Fork; Merrill Smith, Payson; Ruben Christiansen, Spanish Fork; Arthur C. Winter, Pleasant Grove, and Harold Hansen, Orem.

Arnold Burningham and C. R. Gillman, Orem; Henry Jepsen, Robert L. Wilson, Iris Amos, Payson, and Beth Hartshorn, American Fork, were sworn in as deputy assessors; William H. Bufton, Spanish Fork, as chief deputy recorder; Betty Bone, Provo, as deputy treasurer; Warren P. Kirk, Pleasant Grove, chief deputy clerk. Other deputy clerks included Clarice Carter and Lorna A. Miller, Provo.

Douglas Phillips, Provo, was sworn in as deputy auditor, and Elmer Terry, deputy attorney.

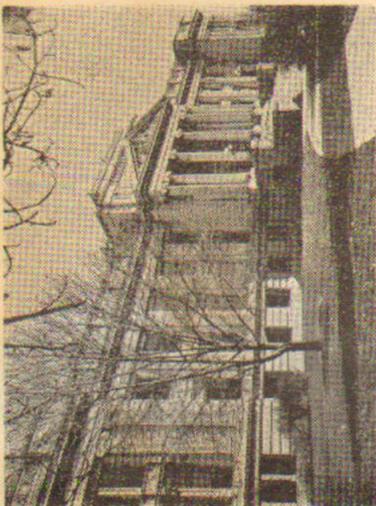

Other appointments were expected to be approved by the county commission within the next few days.

Two Springville Men Returned To Office On Democratic Ticket

Theron S. Hall and Arnold Roylance, County Sheriff and Attorney, Are Only Democrats To Survive Election Battle in Utah County

The Republican party made substantial gains in Springville in the election Tuesday, when four of the eight districts went Republican and a close count was reported in each of the other districts.

Close Election Evident in Utah County

Tribune Leased Wire
PROVO—With 15 out of 90 districts in, close and hard-fought races were evident in every one of the contests in Utah county with the exception of possibly the post of sheriff, where Theron S. Hall, incumbent Democrat, had a fairly substantial lead over his Republican candidate, Henry S. Chipman of American Fork.

R. J. Murdock of Provo, incumbent county commissioner, had the largest lead of probably any of the others, being some 100 votes ahead of the Republican candidate, Reed J. Knudsen of Provo. In all the other races the margin was closer.

Arthur V. Watkins of Orem, the Republican candidate for U. S. senator, was leading his Democratic opponent, Sen. Abe Murdock, by approximately 80 votes, but J. W. Robinson, incumbent Democratic congressman, was out in front of William A. Dawson, Republican, by a mere 30 votes. For the supreme court, Martin M. Larsen, Provoan and incumbent, was trailing George W. Latimer of Salt Lake City by more than 50 votes.

The red-hot fight of the election, the contest for the two state senator posts, showed the Republican candidates, B. Manning Jolley of Orem and David H. Jones of Spanish Fork, leading the Democratic candidates, J. W. Thornton and Mrs. Della L. Loveridge of Provo, by nearly a hundred votes. Mrs. Loveridge was trailing Mr. Jolley by nearly 150 votes.

Although with 75 more districts to come, the indication given by the first 15 districts may not hold up when the entire 90 districts are in. A queer thing of the election trend was that some Republicans were leading and some Democrats in their respective races. Veteran politicians predicted that if Republicans won out in two or more races they would all win out, but this does not seem to be the pattern as shown by the totals for the first 15 districts.

Republican candidates took a majority of offices in the county. Theron S. Hall of Springville, incumbent Utah county sheriff, was returned to office on the Democratic ticket as was Arnold Roylance, Utah county attorney from Springville. All other Democratic candidates were defeated by their Republican opponents.

In the race for U. S. senator, Arthur V. Watkins won over Abe Murdock in the Utah county count of 11510 to 9937. William A. Dawson, in the race for representative in congress in the Second district, won over J. Will Robinson by some 600 votes in Utah county.

The total votes for the various candidates in Springville and in Utah county are given as follows, the first number being the totals cast in Springville and the second in Utah county: for U. S. senator, Abe Murdock, D, 863, 9,937; A. V. Watkins, R, 988, 11,510; for representative in congress Second district, J. Will Robinson, D, 890, 10,339; Wm. A. Dawson, R, 947, 10,978; for justice of the supreme court, Martin M. Larson, D, 890, 10,405; George W. Latimer, R, 947, 10,795; for state senator, Della Loveridge, D, 853, 9,185; J. W. Thornton, D, 870, 9,956; B. Manning Jolley, R, 960, 11,630; David Jones, R, 934, 10,817; for representative, Maurice Anderson, D, 1,135, 18,048; for county commissioner, Wm. J. Johnson, D, 980, 10,430; George Cheever, R, 932, 11,571; for county clerk, C. A. Grant, D, 846, 9,320; Verl G. Dixon, R, 997, 11,983; for county auditor, Douglas Phillips, D, 885, 10,131; Karl Bennett, R, 937, 11,068; for county treasurer, Frank Bennett, D, 665, 10,216; Maurice Bird, R, 1,176, 10,932; for county sheriff, Theron S. Hall, D, 1,175, 10,743; Henry S. Chipman, 646, 10,297; for county attorney, Arnold Roylance, D, 1,182, 10,797; Mitchell M. Carter, R, 653, 10,510; for recorder, Eloise P. Cheever Named Chairman Of New Utah County Commission

George A. Cheever, Payson, was unanimously named chairman of the new Utah county commission early this afternoon at the first official meeting of that body.

Mr. Cheever took office at noon as two-year commissioner. Sworn in with him was his fellow Republican, Reed J. Knudsen, Provo, new four-year commissioner.

Utah County GOP Lists Appointments

Nearly 35 names of new deputies and appointees in six Utah county departments taken over today by Republican officeholders have been submitted to the new county commission for consideration.

Reed J. Knudsen and George A. Cheever, Republican majority members of the commission, said the new appointees have not been formally approved, but will be considered at a formal commission meeting soon.

The list is not complete, with several department heads stating they will make some of their appointments at a late date. All indicated they will eventually completely replace the staffs of their offices with new appointees, with exception of Mrs. Mildred Evans Ream, recorder, who is retaining on a permanent basis five deputies from the staff of 11 in the former administration.

Practically all other department heads are holding over experienced deputies for varying periods to train new appointees in the jobs.

New appointments which have been presented to the commission include:

Front Sheriff Theron S. Hall, Democrat—Harold Hansen, Orem, to replace Joseph P. Gourley, whose resignation as head jailer took effect today. Sheriff Hall re-submitted all of the rest of his staff which served him in the previous administration.

third member of the commission, made the motion to name Mr. Cheever as chairman. The motion was seconded by Mr. Knudsen and thus carried unanimously.

Taking over offices which they won last fall to end a long period of Democratic county control, six Republicans in addition to Commissioners Knudsen and Cheever officially were sworn in at noon today in the county commission chambers.

District Judge Joseph E. Nelson, Republican, administered the oath to five of them, including: Clerk Verl G. Dixon, Provo; Assessor J. Austin Cope Jr., Spanish Fork; Auditor Karl H. Bennett, American Fork; Recorder Mildred Evans Ream, Spanish Fork, and Treasurer Maurice Bird, Springville. Judge Nelson also swore in the two new Republican commissioners.

Spectators chuckled when retiring commission chairman R. J. Murdock, in charge of the proceedings, overlooked the new Republican surveyor, Hugo Price, Provo, and then suggested to District Judge W. Stanley Dunford, a Democrat, that he "may as well swear in a Republican while he was at it." Judge Dunford then administered the oath to Mr. Price, after previously swearing in Sheriff Theron S. Hall and Attorney Arnold Roylance, reelected Democrats.

Mr. Murdock made a brief speech of appreciation on behalf of the retiring officers, and George E. Collard, county Republican chairman, responded. Mr. Collard said he felt the November Utah county campaign was conducted on a high plane, and expressed appreciation for this fact.

Democrats who relinquished the reins of office today after terms of from four to a dozen years included Mr. Murdock and William J. Johnson as county commissioners; and the following departmental elective posts: Clerk, C. A. Grant, American Fork; auditor, Douglas L. Phillips, Provo; treasurer, Frank T. Bennett, Provo; recorder, Eloise P. Fillmore, Provo; assessor, L. M. Atwood, Pleasant Grove, and surveyor, Lavern D. Green, Provo.

Navy Launch Sought for Use on Lake

Tribune Leased Wire

PROVO—The Utah county sheriff's office is one step closer to securing a surplus navy power launch for use in rescue work on Utah lake, Sheriff Theron S. Hall said Saturday.

Sheriff Hall revealed that he had received a letter from W. John Kenney, acting secretary of the navy, stating that the navy department would submit the request for such a craft to congress at its next session. If congress approves the navy department's proposal, the navy will then loan the sheriff's department a craft of the type application has been made for, Sheriff Hall said.

Inasmuch as congress is not expected to meet until the first of the year, the sheriff said he did not expect delivery on the craft until next spring.

Application has been made for a 25 to 30-foot, twin engine type launch known in the navy as an "admiral's launch." This type vessel has proven seaworthy and is believed to be ideal for the type of rough work necessary on Utah lake, Sheriff Hall said.

Pointing out that such a launch would be invaluable in lake rescue work, Sheriff Hall said it would

Ute Indian Held For Murder Investigation

Timothy Morris, 59-year-old Ute Indian sought in connection with the slaying of Robert David, 22-year-old Navajo, as he was brought into the Utah county jail this morning after his arrest by Sheriff Theron S. Hall. Sheriff Hall holds the Indian's 30-30 rifle, from which officers took six cartridges following Morris' arrest.

UTE INDIAN ARRESTED IN MURDER HUNT

Find Murder Suspect
In Provo Foothills

Timothy Morris, 59-year-old Ute Indian sought in connection with the Sunday night slaying of Robert David, 22-year-old Navajo, was arrested at 8:30 a.m. today by Sheriff Theron S. Hall

Morris was apprehended near the old lime kiln on the foothills a short distance southeast of Provo, and Sheriff Hall quoted him as saying:

"Navajo, him no good. Me kill 'em."

County Attorney Arnold Roylance said today he will file first degree murder charges against Morris following an inquest into David's death scheduled for this afternoon.

The sheriff and Deputy Roscoe Kay each sped toward the scene from different directions this morning after being notified by their headquarters that workers around the lime kiln had seen an Indian nearby.

Sheriff Hall, approaching from his Springville home, reached the scene first. He saw Morris lying beside a campfire about 100 yards from the lime kiln and approached him with drawn gun. Morris' 30-30 rifle was lying in the grass a short distance from its owner.

Sheriff Hall reached Morris and told him to put out his hands. The Indian did so with no show of resistance, and the sheriff handcuffed him. The Indian made no move toward his gun. Deputy Sheriff Kay reached the scene just as Sheriff Hall completed the arrest. The Indian had been lying either asleep or with his eyes closed, and the sheriff said he was nearly upon him before the Ute opened his eyes.

Officers unloaded six shells from the magazine of Morris' rifle. The Indian had 26 more cartridges in his pocket.

David was found Monday morning, lying shot to death in front of the shack near the Geneva steel plant in which the two Indians had been living. Officers said he had been shot through the head and hip with a 30-30 rifle, and that one empty 30-30 shell was found just inside the cabin. Arthur Nielson, a neighbor of the two men, told officers the Indians had been quarreling lately and that bad blood apparently existed between them.

Morris, speaking in broken English interspersed with vigorous sign language said he walked from his cabin, located about one-fourth mile above the Geneva Steel plant, east to the foothills and then south to where the sheriff arrested him this morning, a total distance of seven or eight miles. He had apparently spent last night there.

"Me sit down," he told officers. "Me no run away."

Morris was very placid as officers locked him in the Utah county jail. He obeyed orders readily, and seemed to take little interest in what was going on.

His Geneva Steel company worker's badge had been scuffed and perhaps burned until his name was obliterated, still, however, leaving his picture. Officers could not tell whether the badge had been mutilated recently or not.

Geneva plant police said this morning Morris had worked off and on at the Geneva plant for several years. They said he always seemed quiet and had given no trouble.

The old Ute has been a familiar site on the streets of Provo, as was young David. Both dressed colorfully in flashy, western garb. Morris, with his black, braided hair and beads, was the object of much interest and curiosity on the part of easterners who came here to work at Geneva, many of whom had never seen an Indian. Some reports in Provo held that Morris held some sort of chieftainship in the Ute tribe, but these were unsubstantiated.

The soft nose bullet had caused such mutilation it was impossible to tell definitely until the mortician had made some repairs, the sheriff said. Officers concluded it entered his left eye and came out behind his ear. The shot in the hip also passed completely through that portion of his body, they said.

SPRINGVILLE—What started out as an evening hike and scout cooking test for two Springville boys ended in an all-night mountain climb for members of the local fire department and other citizens led by Theron S. Hall, sheriff of Utah county; Warner Allan, Springville fire chief, and members of the city police.

Lloyd Madsen, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Madsen, left home about 6 p.m. Monday to assist his cousin, Mark Hoover, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Hoover, pass a scout cooking test. The boys hiked several miles up Spring Creek canyon east of the city and decided after the supper was cooked it was too dark to return home. Following scout instructions, they built a fire to wait until morning.

In the meantime, the town had been awakened at 3 a.m. by the fire siren calling the firemen to search the hills for the boys. The siren, at 5 a.m., announced the boys' return and some time later the last group of firemen and other volunteers returned after several hours mountain climbing for the two "lost" scouts.

UTE INDIAN ARRESTED IN MURDER HUNT

Sheriff and Deputies Find Murder Suspect In Provo Foothills

Timothy Morris, 59-year-old Ute Indian sought in connection with the Sunday night slaying of Robert David, 22-year-old Navajo, was arrested at 8:30 a.m. today by Sheriff Theron S. Hall.

Morris was apprehended near the old lime kiln on the foothills a short distance south-east of Provo, and Sheriff Hall quoted him as saying:

"Navajo, him no good. Me kill 'em."
County Attorney Arnold Roy-lance said today he will file the first degree murder charges against Morris following an inquest into David's death scheduled for this afternoon.

The sheriff and Deputy Roscoe Kay each sped toward the scene from different directions this morning after being notified by their headquarters that workers around the lime kiln had seen an Indian nearby.

Sheriff Hall, approaching from his Springville home, reached the scene first. He saw Morris lying beside a campfire about 100 yards from the lime kiln and approached him with drawn gun. Morris' 30-30 rifle was lying in the grass a short distance from its owner.

Sheriff Hall reached Morris and told him to put out his hands. The Indian did so with no show of resistance, and the sheriff handcuffed him. The Indian made no move toward his gun. Deputy Sheriff Kay reached the scene just as Sheriff Hall completed the arrest. The Indian had been lying either asleep or with his eyes closed, and the sheriff said he was nearly upon him before the Ute opened his eyes.

Officers unloaded six shells from the magazine of Morris' rifle. The Indian had 26 more cartridges in his pocket.

David was found Monday morning, lying shot to death in front of the shack near the Geneva steel plant in which the two Indians had been living. Officers said he had been shot through the head and hip with a 30-30 rifle, and that one empty 30-30 shell was found just inside the cabin. Arthur Nielson, a neighbor of the two men, told officers the Indians had been quarreling lately and that had blood apparently existed between them.

PROVO—Harry T. Mower, former Utah county deputy sheriff charged with embezzlement in connection with the alleged theft of $474 in county funds, has been apprehended by Shreveport, La., law enforcement officers, Sheriff Theron S. Hall, Springville, reported Monday.

Sheriff Hall received a telegram from Sheriff J. Howell Flournoy, Shreveport, stating that Mower was being held in jail there for Utah county officers. The Utah county sheriff said he, Deputy Sheriff Walter Durrant, American Fork, and County Attorney Arnold Roylance, Springville, will leave Wednesday morning by automobile for Shreveport.

Waives Extradition

Although Louisiana authorities said Mower had waived extradition, Sheriff Hall said he was taking no chances of a slip up and that extradition papers would be prepared in case the former deputy changes his mind, and decides to fight his return to Utah.

Acting on a tip received Monday from police in Chicago, Mower's former residence, Sheriff Hall immediately wired Shreveport authorities to check the address of a gas company there where Mower reportedly was working as a clerk. Chicago police previously had checked the gas company's home office in the Windy city for the Shreveport address.

After receiving the tip from Chicago police, Sheriff Hall sent a certified copy of the complaint filed against Mower, by airmail to Shreveport officers, with a warrant of arrest and a circular.

Sheriff Hall said Mower reportedly had been seen in several different places, since he allegedly left his post in the sheriff's office on Aug. 25, with county funds. In addition, he allegedly took a $200 camera, owned by the sheriff's department, a $50 gun and a pair of handcuffs.

Mower had handled the office work for the county sheriff's department for the county sheriff's department's money and fees. He had held the position since April and had been doing a highly efficient job, Sheriff Hall said.

Deputy Waits Arraignment In Theft Case

PROVO — Ex-Deputy Sheriff Harry T. Mower, 32, was in the Utah county jail Wednesday awaiting arraignment Thursday on a charge of embezzling $474 in Utah county funds while working in the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Theron S. Hall returned Wednesday with Mower from Shreveport, La., where Mower was arrested on the sheriff's orders. Sheriff Hall said he had recovered a $200 county camera and $50 policeman's gun which Mower allegedly took with him.

County to Retrieve Deputy Losses

PROVO—Utah county will receive a complete reimbursement of $566.37 from the bonding company of Harry T. Mower, 32, ex-deputy sheriff of Utah county, who now faces embezzlement and other charges, Theron S. Hall, sheriff, said Monday.

Although the official complaint only charges Mower with embezzlement of $474, latest investigation revealed further losses and the company agreement covers the complete findings.

Ex-Utah County Deputy Returns To Face Trial

Harry T. Mower, 32, was in the Utah county jail today, awaiting arraignment tomorrow morning on charges of embezzling Utah county funds.

Sheriff Theron S. Hall, Deputy Sheriff Walter Durrant and County Attorney Arnold Roylance reached Provo with Mower about noon from Shreveport, La., where he had been arrested on orders of Sheriff Hall. Mower is charged with stealing $474 in county funds while working in the sheriff's office as a clerical deputy.

Sheriff Hall said they had also recovered the department camera, worth about $200, and a policeman's revolver owned by the county, valued at $50, which Mower assertedly took with him.

Hall Named To State Democratic Program Group

Utah County Sheriff Theron S. Hall today was one of nine prominent Democrats throughout the state named to a formulate a party program and stimulate interest in party activities.

The committee was authorized at a Democratic rank-and-file "unity" meeting in Salt Lake City recently which developed into an argument over Governor Herbert B. Maw's role in 1948 election.

The motion creating the committee directed that it should remain free of candidate controversies and avoid encroachment upon the policy-making responsibilities of the regular party organizations.

Other members include: former state Chairman Allen G. Thurman; chairman; State Senator Taylor P. Brockbank, Salt Lake City; State Senator Sol J. Selvin, Tooele; Mrs. E. E. Erickson, former state senator, of Salt Lake City; Charles Gardner, Bountiful; Charles Doty, Ogden; Harold Reece, Bear River City; State Representative John A. Murch, Logan.

9 Democrats To Stimulate Party Interest
Jan. 23 - 1948

A committee of nine, authorized by a Democratic rank-and-file "unity" meeting last Monday night which developed into an argument over Gov. Herbert B. Maw's role in the 1948 election, was appointed Thursday by Delbert M. Draper.

Mr. Draper, chairman of the committee which called the meeting and a former state chairman of the party, said the new committee of nine would formulate a program to stimulate interest in party activities.

The motion creating the committee directed that it should remain free of candidate controversies and avoid encroachment upon the policy-making responsibilities of the regular party organizations.

Members are former State Chairman Allen G. Thurman, chairman; State Sen. Taylor P. Brockbank, Salt Lake City; State Sen. Sol J. Selvin, Tooele; Mrs. E. E. Erickson, former state senator, of Salt Lake City; Charles Gardner, Bountiful; Charles Doty, Ogden; Harold Reece, Bear River City; St. Rep. John A. Murch, Logan; and Sheriff Theron Hall, Utah county.

Do You Remember? . . .

By MAUDE H. BENEDICT

May Weight Johnson's contribution reminds us that we should remember the male quartet of the early 1900's, called "The Harrison Quartet." It was composed of Geo. Harrison, Sr., Joseph Tuckett, Walter and Dave Wheeler. And, writes May, "I remember my throat used to ache when I heard Dave Wheeler sing in low bass."

May continues: "One nice thing I like to remember we kids did was helping Theron Hall get over his bashfulness. He wouldn't even be seen near a girl. He said, 'What's the use of them anyway—they always spoil everything.'"

Someone told us they bet any one of us we couldn't kiss Theron. We vowed we would, and so after school one day we watched our chance. We played along the street loitering our way toward home, with an eye out for Theron. We climbed trees, walked the swamps, anything to pass the time until Theron appeared.

"Seeing him approach, we hid and charged him. You bet we caught him and each gave him a big smack (not the tender kind). Someone said Theron would 'crown' us when the chance came. But he never did. He was mad clear through, though. Yet something tells me he didn't really, deep down in his heart, resent being kissed! Hi, there, Sheriff Hall! Don't fib and say you don't remember when you were that much a woman hater!"

Committee of Nine Recommends Maw Forego Candidacy for Renomination

An unofficial "committee of nine" within the state Democratic party today had recommended that Governor Herbert B. Maw should not be a candidate for reelection this year.

The committee, of which Utah County Sheriff Theron S. Hall is a member, submitted a majority report that the governor be urged "to serve the party in some other capacity than as its nominee for governor."

The forthright recommendation brought into the open the current split within the party over the governor's candidacy, and, in a sense, threw down the gauntlet on the issue for the coming state convention.

The committee, of which Allen G. Thurman, Salt Lake City, is chairman, resulted from a recent party meeting in Salt Lake.

The report carried the typewritten names of five out of the nine who supported its contentions. They included the chairman, Sheriff Hall, Harold Reese, Boxelder county; Charles Gardner, Davis county, and State Senator Taylor P. Brockbank, Salt Lake City.

The report, in part, said:

"We feel there is a marked lack of harmony at this time in the Democratic party of this state as the result of selfish efforts of certain officer holders to name Governor Herbert B. Maw as head of our ticket at the ensuing election. These efforts are being pushed without regard for success of the party or desire of a great majority of its members but solely to appease the selfish desire of certain persons to perpetuate themselves in office.

"We are not advised as to the governor's desires or intentions but feel that whatever they may be, it would be in the interest of party harmony and all concerned if he would seek to serve the party in some other capacity than as its nominee for the high office of governor next fall."

Springville Scouts on Adventure Trip Down Swift Yampa, Green Rivers

SPRINGVILLE—Senior Scouts carry food and provisions in a water-tight compartment. One 10-man life raft, and two 7-man life rafts complete the river-going equipment.

Their guide is Ray Despain, an experienced "river-runner," who will direct the 20-man party which left here for Vernal and Lily, Colo., at 4 a.m. The group will put on to the river near Elk Springs, Colo. They hope to reach the Yampa River gorge this evening.

The party went by truck from Springville to Lily, Colo. There they will commence their adventure down the Yampa (Bear) river. They will travel approximately 50 miles down the Yampa to where it joins the Green river and then travel with the current another 30 miles down the Green river. They will put to shore at Jensen, Utah, near the dinosaur quarries. A truck will meet them at Jensen to bring the river-riders home.

This is one of the most dangerous and exciting river trips in the whole country, according to Mr. Despain who is making his eighth trip down the river. He said the river area that will be traversed by the Scouts has the greatest foot drop per mile of any stream of the Green River-Colorado River area. The rivers are just below their peak flows, Mr. Despain said, and are as high or higher than they have been in several years. This will facilitate traveling over the treacherous rapids.

Four boats will be used. One large army bridge pontoon will to pass certain health and safety requirements.

With the exception of one Scout, all are from the Springville Sixth Ward group. Fred Tew from Mapleton will be accompanying the local Scouts.

Dr. Wilford Biesinger, Springville City physician, will accompany the group as medical adviser.

Senior Scouts on the trip are Charles Hyde, Clifton Hall, Garth Tingey, Blaine Frazier, Verl Ashcraft, Vincent Houtz, Dale Long, Shirl Griffiths, Glen Sanford, and Melvin Baker.

Annual Poppy Day Is Scheduled Saturday

Poppy Poster Winners And Other Work To Be Displayed During Week In Store Windows, Cash Prizes To Be Given

Customary poppy sales will be conducted by the Springville Legion Auxiliary Saturday, according to announcement by Mrs. Hazel Roylance, Poppy Day chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Afton Clark and Miss Helen Reynolds.

Legion Auxiliary members will sell the little red flowers throughout the day on Main street, and will also canvass the town to dispose of their quota of 1500 flowers.

Made by disabled veterans in hospitals, the poppy is sold annually in remembrance of those who died in World War II, and for all veterans who gave their lives for their country. The veterans who make the poppies receive a small amount for the making, and the funds derived from the sales carry on child welfare work for veterans' families locally and throughout the state. It is a worthy cause which should be contributed to by all patriotic citizens of the town.

Making the flowers has given the disabled veterans the encouraging experience of being able to earn money again, often after many months of idleness. They are paid by the Auxiliary for each poppy they make and are able to earn helpful amounts during the poppy making season, to which each one looks forward.

In connection with Poppy Day the Auxiliary committee has sponsored a poppy poster contest in the schools, with the result that some very fine art work has been produced.

Movie-Making Jaunt

Salt Lakers Set Trip Down River

May 29-1948

Eight Salt Lakers will board two cataract-type boats Sunday morning to begin a 100-mile movie-taking jaunt down the Yampa and Green rivers.

The group is led by Al W. Morton, 1051 Jeremy, veteran amateur movie producer, who will spend the next three days photographing scenes along the rivers. No newcomer to the movie field, Mr. Morton won the top award for nontheatrical movie making from the Amateur Cinema league last year for his film taken of the Colorado river.

The two boats, "Mexican Hat" and "The Loper," will be put in the water at Lily Park, Colo., Mr. Morton said. The expedition will swing down the Yampa river to the junction with the Green river and then to Jensen, Utah, arriving sometime Tuesday night.

John W. Brennan, 1150 Elgin ave., and LaPhene Harris, 2500 E. 48th South, both veteran boatmen, will guide the craft. Other members of the party are Mrs. Morton; Mr. and Mrs. Max Owen Waddoups, 23 Harris ave.; Evan R. Brown, 1740 S. Main, and Ephraim Bjorkland Jr., 821-3rd ave.

Mr. Morton termed the trip merely a warm-up for a river expedition he plans in July when he will "make the run" through Grand canyon to produce a movie.

Mrs. Theron Hall, won first place in the contest; Billie Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Bird, second; and Grant Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Cook, third.

The students will receive a cash prize from the Auxiliary for their efforts and their posters, together with a number of other entries, will be placed in downtown store windows, reminding citizens of Poppy Day and its meaning.

Mrs. Roylance and other Auxiliary members are urging citizens now to purchase the little flower on Saturday in memory of the war dead.

Sheriff's Son Winner In State Poster Contest

SPRINGVILLE—Springville is boasting of a new young artist this week as announcement comes that Hilton Hall, son of Sheriff and Mrs. Theron S. Hall won first place in the state of Utah in the American Legion auxiliary sponsored poppy poster contest.

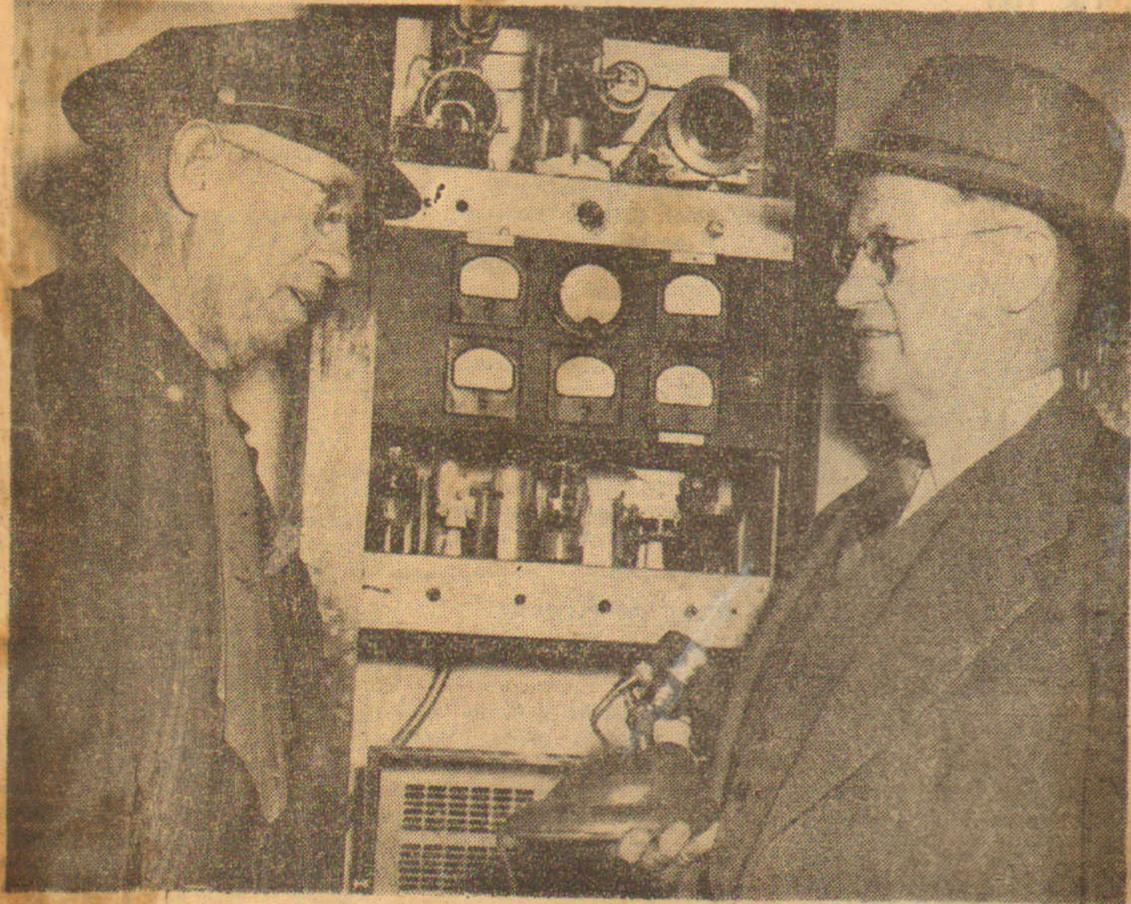

Young Hall designed his poster around the theme "Crutches to Life," portraying crutches made of red poppies, and the judges commended him for the simplicity, attractiveness, and artistic achievement found in his work.

He was presented with the cash prize from the state by Mrs. Hazel Roylance, local Memorial poster chairman.

NEW RADIO SETUP—Capt. L. A. Christensen (left) of the highway patrol and Sheriff Theron S. Hall examine equipment being installed at the Utah County jail which will put their radio communication system on a 24-hour per day basis, fulfilling long-felt need.

Utah County 3-Way Patrol Radio To Begin 24-Hour Daily Operation

PROVO—The three-way highway patrol and sheriff's office radio communication system in Utah County will go into operation on a 24-hour-per-day schedule within the next few days.

Sheriff Theron S. Hall and Capt. L. A. Christensen of the highway patrol said Friday that equipment currently is being installed at the county jail, 1251 West Center St., so that sheriff's department personnel at the jail can operate the radio controls during the night.

The radio, part of a state-wide police communication system, is operated jointly in Utah County by the sheriff's office and highway patrol.

Under present arrangements, the sheriff's office operates the station receiver and transmitter from headquarters in the city and county building from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The highway patrol takes over from 5 o'clock to 1 a.m.

With completion of the unit at the jail, the controls will be shifted to the night jailer when the highway patrol goes off duty.

The first radio communication system for the county and highway patrol was installed five years ago for communication from the station to patrol cars. Eventually all cars were equipped with transmitters, and now the three-way setup facilitates not only station-to-car communication but car-to-car as well.

According to Sheriff Hall, police forces of all major cities in Utah County except Provo are equipped with receivers and operate on the same frequency system. Provo has its own radio system.

The equipment at the jail is being installed by Glenn Wing of Lehi, radio technician for the highway patrol.

Springville Girl Gains First Place In Essay Contest

SPRINGVILLE — In a recent essay contest conducted through the local high school on the subject "The United Nations, a Means for Peace" Miss Bonnie Beardall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Beardall, was judged first place winner. Honorable mention also went to Elaine Aschcraft, Glenn Coffman, Jr., Richard Sumsion, Glen Sanford, and Phyllis Hall for their compositions.

According to the judges, the quality and standards of the essays turned in, showed an unusual knowledge of history and workings of the UN organization as well as the significance of its place in the vital world issues confronting the governments of all peoples at the present time.

Sidelights Of The Election In Utah County

BY T. H. L.

Deepest gloom on the part of the losers and jubilation from the winners are a part of any election, but a third quality was uppermost in Utah county today—downright amazement.

The Democrats were just as surprised at the victory as the Republicans were when the latter swept into office two years ago, and they admitted it from the winning office holders down to the average voter. Two years ago, when Republicans swept two posts in the county commission and all county offices but sheriff and county attorney, they couldn't believe it. It was the same today with the Democrats.

There was joy in the city and county building today, but it was confined to three spots, while deepest gloom permeated the rest of the building. The Democratic offices of sheriff and county attorney, only two to survive the Republican landslide of 1946, were jubilant. Democratic County Commissioner Sylvan W. Clark, although he did not run for reelection, was not exactly down-cast.

Sheriff Theron S. Hall claimed he began to feel better about the outlook yesterday afternoon, when results of annual straw vote in Springville schools was announced. This favored the Democrats, and the sheriff claims the poll has never been wrong. It is apparently more accurate than the Messrs. Gallup, Crossley, et al.

Funeral Services Held Tuesday For Beloved Pioneer

Final tributes of respect were paid Tuesday afternoon to one of Springville's most beloved and respected pioneers, Mrs. Mary J. Finley, who died at the family residence Saturday of causes incident to her age. She would have been 93 in January.

Mary J. Finley

Funeral services were conducted in the Fourth ward chapel, under direction of V. C. Mendenhall, bishop of the Third ward. Burial was in the city cemetery, under direction of A. Y. Wheeler and Son mortuary.

Mrs. Finley had lived in Springville 91 years, coming here with her parents, Solomon D. and Lydia Ann Thorn Chase, from Bountiful, where she was born January 27, 1857.

Educated in the Springville schools, she became one of the first school teachers in this community and served on the early-day board of education. She was a past president of the early Ladies' Republican club and the Springville chapter of the American Red Cross.

She served as a member of the Utah county board, Daughters of Utah Pioneers, and was a charter member of the Springville DUP camp. She was one of the first club members and at the time of death an honorary member of the Home Culture club.

Always a leader in civic and educational work, Mrs. Finley organized and was first president of the Parent-Teacher association in 1914.

In her very early life she was a member of the Young Ladies' Retrenchment Society, which later became the Mutual Improvement Association. She had always been an active member of the LDS church, serving in various capacities, including Sunday school teacher and literary leader in the Relief Society.

She had served on numerous civic improvement committees and it was through her efforts as chairman of a committee that the monument to Pioneer Mothers, by the late Cyrus E. Dallin, was placed on the city park.

Mrs. Finley was also instrumental in preserving the old cottonwood tree in front of the Third ward hall and having a bronze plaque designating it as a pioneer land mark.

She had worked many years on a history of Springville, gathering data and pictures on important events dating from settlement days in 1850 until the present time. Her compilation of these events has been referred to by prominent historians as one of the most complete histories of its kind to be found.

Representative of Springville pioneers, she was selected as queen of the Black Hawk celebration here in 1946.

'Watch Birdie' Stuff Out, Say Crime Photoqs

By N. L. Christensen
Deseret News Bureau Chief
PROVO—Ever try photographing a person who just didn't want to be photographed?

Doing this is regular routine for Harold Hanson and Roscoe Kay, deputies to Sheriff Theron S. Hall of Utah County, who have the job of "mugging" all prisoners jailed here on felony counts.

"Many of our 'customers' are uncooperative," says Harold, jailer at the Utah County Jail, who handles the lion's share of the picture-taking chores. "Some of them squirm and try to move just as the shutter clicks."

When a prisoner is sitting there under a number, the "look at the birdie" routine doesn't always work. But Harold has a remedy for dodging tactics. "I just tell them I've got a lot of film and a lot of patience," he says.

The photography division of the sheriff's department was established by Sheriff Hall and has proved of great value in getting evidence in criminal cases.

Neither Mr. Hanson nor Mr. Kay knew much about cameras when they started on the job, much less anything about dark room practices.

"But we started learning fast when the sheriff told us taking pictures would be part of our routine," comments Harold. By detailed study on the subject, they soon had a working acquaintance with such equipment and materials as flash bulbs and synchroizers, range finders, shutter speeds, enlargers, and developing fluids.

The department has three cameras, one for fingerprinting, which is also used extensively by Deputy Walter Durrant; a "studio" camera for portraiting the prisoners; and a Speed Graphic used for such assignments as taking pictures of wreckage from traffic accidents.

Photos at accident scenes have proved valuable evidence in many criminal cases growing out of the mishaps, and often are used in civil suits as well, according to Sheriff Hall.

BY EDWIN BAIRD

Above: Robert David lived in a cabin with Tim, despite the fact that he was a Navajo. Two slugs drilled him.

OLD TIMOTHY MORRIS, Ute Indian, believed in keeping the spirit of the Wild West alive. The younger bucks wore modern clothes, smoked cigarettes and spoke the slang of the white man, but there was none of that streamlined stuff for Tim. He dressed, looked and talked like an Indian. He wore his black hair tightly braided, sported plenty of bright beads and other adornment, and conversed in deep grunts.

He didn't go in for warpaint and feathers, yet there was plenty of warlike spirit in the old boy—him Ute chief in early days!—and this was demonstrated in a very impressive manner on a March night in 1944 around a campfire on Colorado's Navajo Indian reservation. Tim, the Ute, was asked to join the Navajos in a powwow, and he joined in a way that soon had the whole camp in a bloody uproar.

The beverage served at this social gathering was peyote juice, which is a powerful brew made from the flower of an Oklahoma weed known as helianthus, or oxeye. Old Tim imbibed freely. Wrapped in his blanket and seated in the campfire circle, Tim began brooding on the ancient wars between the Utes and the Navajos. He muttered into his cup, "Navajo no damn good."

His muttering reached an explosive point around midnight. He reached inside his blanket and snaked out a wicked knife. Stealthily, by the flickering half-light of the dying fire, he tested its blade and point. Sharp! Just right for carving up a Navajo chief!

And that was what he proceeded to do. (Continued on page 48)

"Him Navajo . . . Navajo no good . . . Me kill um!"

On the Warpath

He got to his feet and lunged at his host, a 70-year-old Navajo chieftain named James Hemp. When the melee was over, the Navajo lay bleeding from 16 wounds and Tim was nowhere in sight.

FBI agents caught up with him several days later chopping scrub oak on a reservation in the wastelands of eastern Utah. They approached him cautiously, because for all they knew he might go berserk again and come at them with his ax. But they had no need to fear. When he saw the G-men he put down his ax and lifted his hand in the Indian token of peace.

"White man my friend," he said. "Me like white man. Me go."

"Why did you attack that Navajo with your knife?" one of the agents asked.

The Indian shrugged and stoically answered, "Navajo no good."

That was all they could get out of him.

They took him to Salt Lake City, where he was indicted for assault by the federal grand jury. Brought before Federal Judge Tillman D. Johnson, he pleaded guilty and was placed on probation until March 22, 1949.

Old Tim went to live in a small camp near Provo, Utah, and there he met up with another Indian about one-third his age named Robert David.

David was a Navajo, but in spite of that Tim felt a liking for him. Possibly it was because David, unlike other young bucks, didn't try to disguise his ancestry but rather boasted of it. He wore Indian garb topped with a two-gallon western hat. Presently the two were living together in a cabin.

A picturesque pair they made in their native dress, and easterners who visited that part of Utah—and who never before had seen an Indian—stared at them in frank curiosity.

All went well until the evening of May 18, 1947. Suddenly the night was split by gunfire. Early next morning there came a call to the sheriff's office from a man named Arthur Nielson, who lived in a trailer not far from the Indians' cabin. "There's been some shooting out here," Nielson reported. "Looks like murder. Better send a man to investigate."

Deputy George W. Loveless went to the scene and saw at a glance it was indeed a case of murder. A few feet from the cabin door lay Young David. He was dead. There were two pools of blood, one beneath the body, another a few feet away.

Examining these, Loveless reasoned that two shots had been fired. The first inflicted only a superficial wound and he tried to escape. As he started to run, the second shot caught him in the head. The bullet passed through the brain.

The officer went inside the cabin and found an empty shell fired by a 30-30 rifle. Of old Indian Tim he could find no trace whatever. Nor could he find anybody who had seen him or knew his whereabouts.

Deputy Loveless went to County Attorney Arnold C. Roylance and signed a first degree murder complaint against Tim, and then, armed with a warrant, started hunting for the slayer. Sheriff Theron S. Hall and other county officers aided him. Within 48 hours they struck a hot trail leading into the Utah foothills. The hunters spread out, beating through the bush. Presently Sheriff Hall sighted a wisp of smoke rising beyond a rocky ridge.

With his gun ready, he crept along the ridge, and almost before he knew it he was looking down at Old Tim. The Indian, wrapped in his blanket, was stretched on the ground beside a small fire. Within easy reach lay his 30-30 rifle. His eyes were closed. Nor did he open them till the sheriff spoke.

"Stay where you are," the sheriff ordered, "and hold out your hands."

He was quickly handcuffed and the sheriff told him he could get up if he liked, but Old Tim preferred to sit on the ground. He had been walking steadily since the shooting and he was tired.

"Why did you do it, Tim?" Hall asked.

"Why did you kill your friend?"

Tim shrugged. "Him no friend," he grunted. "Him Navajo."

Later, at the county jail, he elaborated somewhat, though not much, on his reason for killing "no good Navajo."

"One day, two day, three day, four day, him no talk. Him mad. Him no good. I kill um."

Before, when he had almost killed a Navajo chieftain after taking on too much firewater, the white man had released Old Tim. But now it seemed certain he would be taken out of circulation for keeps.
